

Ahmed Mujtaba

Institutional Trader

Trading Analyst since 2018. An independent and self-motivated trader with proven and tested trading strategies in crypto trading and stocks and some blockchain-related startup experience. More than 3 years of experience in the industry. Started trading with zero knowledge and account liquidations two times with trading retail. Gathered knowledge over the years and 5-10x my crypto portfolio with proper risk management and a proven trading system.

09/2018 - Present

An independent and self-motivated trader with proven and tested trading strategies in crypto trading and some blockchain related startup experience.

Achievements/Tasks

- My preferred trading strategies are scalping and swing trading depending upon market conditions.
- (Trading Win rate) For the month of November and December, i executed forty-seven trades with gain of 30 and a loss of 17. My risk to reward is 1: 3 , this profitable system developed over the years suits my personality.
- My trading strategy is concerned with hunting liquidity gaps and wick hunting (FVGS) in ltf and htf. I only use volume to confirm my trades and sometimes rsi for confluences . My trading style is SMC trading (smart money concepts).
- This bear market i have have generated sweet profits of 60 to 70% on some btc and alt trades during this bear market.
