Boyfriend and Relationships of Bella Hadid

Bella Hadid is no stranger to being in the spotlight, and her relationships have been under close scrutiny since her rise to fame. Bella's first high-profile relationship was with singer The Weeknd, whom she dated from 2015 until 2019. During their relationship Bella was often seen in public supporting him by attending his concerts and accompanying him on red carpets. Bella has also been linked to NBA player Jordan Clarkson and most recently has been spotted with rapper Drake.

The pair were first seen together in October 2020 at a birthday party for Bella's friend Kendall Jenner, where they reportedly stayed close all night long but Bella later denied that anything was going on between them at the time. However, recent rumors suggest that Bella and Drake may be involved romantically as they have been seen out together multiple times since then, including an outing with Bella's brother Anwar and his girlfriend Dua Lipa the same month.

In early 2021 Bella was once again sighted with Drake at a restaurant in Hollywood and reports soon followed that the pair had been growing closer during lockdown despite living on different sides of the country — Bella resides in New York while Drake is based in Los Angeles.

Whilst Bella does not typically speak about her dating life she did tell fans via Instagram live back in 2018 "I do think it's important to keep some things just for you... I want my relationships to be my own. I don't really want too many people around me when it comes to certain things." Whilst Bella hasn't officially confirmed whether or not she is currently seeing Drake, their frequent sightings suggest there could be something more than friendship between them!

Bella is also very close friends with musician Travis Scott, who she has known since before he rose to fame back in 2013 when he asked Bella to collaborate on a mixtape project which unfortunately never came into fruition due to scheduling conflicts. Since then Travis has become one of the biggest names in hip hop but according to sources he still finds time for his friend Bella who appreciates his support saying "Travis is so wonderful; we are like family." From their pictures together it seems like there is definitely something special between them even if it isn't romantic — whatever it may be it looks like these two are just happy being best friends!
