THE METAVERSE

The term 'metaverse' is a portmanteau that combines the worlds 'meta' and 'universe.' It is used primarily to refer to an anticipated future iteration of the internet that's often hailed as Web 3.0. This evolution of the internet is expected to see the rise of online 3-D or virtually integrated environments that provide users access to virtual reality and augmented reality experiences.

The metaverse refers to both current and future integrated digital platforms focused on virtual and augmented reality. It is widely hyped as the internet's next frontier and seen as a significant business and financial opportunity for the tech industry and other sectors.

In the vision for the metaverse articulated by social media and technology companies, devices like virtual reality headsets, digital glasses, smartphones, and other devices will allow users access to 3-D virtual or augmented reality environments where they can work, connect with friends, conduct business, visit remote locations, and access educational opportunities, all in an environment mediated by technology in new and immersive ways.

The metaverse is not just one type of experience. Instead, it refers to a continuum of immersive digital experiences that will be available to users in the future and which will allow them to engage in a range of different activities in completely digital spaces. That could mean participating in a massive virtual reality multiplayer game accessed through a VR headset or experiencing integrated digital and physical spaces such as location-specific immersive digital content from business users who are visiting via digital glasses or smartphones. The metaverse therefore isn't one digital space but a number of digital spaces and experiences currently being created by companies to offer more realistic and immersive digital experiences. The technology has a range of potential functionalities from augmented reality collaboration platforms that can enable better collaboration and integration to work productivity platforms for remote teams that might, for example, allow real estate agents to host virtual home tours.

GAME

Loony will be creating its own nft play to earn game where players can earn rewards for taking certain actions in the game. The Loony coin will be used as an in game currency of the game with which users can use to buy boost, upgrades, outfits etc in the game and also earn the Loonycoin which can be exchange into real asset in the Loony exchange or be swapped into other coins.

GAMEPLAY

Loony nft will serve as game characters in the Loony game. Users will need to connect their wallet with the game and make sure they have Loonycoin available in their wallet to be used to play the game. The gameplay is similar to subway surf where players run from monsters, people etc and earn coins from running. The coin will be stored in their wallet and then exchanged on the Loony exchange.

MISSION AND VISION

It is silly to have classes of rich and poor people in our world.

Income inequality is rising. A quarter of a century ago, the average disposable income of the richest 10% in OECD countries was around seven times higher than that of the poorest 10%; today, it's around 9½ times higher. The richest 10% of the global population currently take home 52% of the income. The poorest half of the global population? Well they earn just 8%. On average, an individual from the top 10% will earn $122,100, but an individual from the bottom half will earn just $3,920. About 9.2% of the world, or 689 million people, live in extreme poverty on less than $1.90 a day, according to the World Bank

Loony sole mission is to use its time and resources on making the world a better place where everyone has a better life to live. With funds made on the project, we will be supporting different charity organizations and funding them to help and aid the homeless.

By creating devices, homes to support the less privileged, Loony aims to making a turn around to the lives of those living on the street and giving them lives.
