Boss of Bosses

The old man Mr Mathew sat quietly deep in thought. In the last ten years he had boost his only grandchild rut was able to build his organization to one of the biggest drug syndicates in the world.

Lately he felt his health and mental capacity slipping and knew that it was only a matter of time before he himself faded to black.

He had kept this information to himself and away from his two great grandsons and their mother for good reason.

No one needed to know whether he was in good health dead or alive because his death could only create a vacuum in the underworld that his organization may not be able to recover from. He trusted guess with his life and that he would always make the correct decision in all situation, but guess was not a dangerous as some of the other people who had made their way into the underworld in the last five years or so.

The commission had not yet ran into a problem that they couldn't find the solution to but things had changed to the point where they were not the only show in town and the influential powers had been split now.

This created a problem in the Old man head because he had come up in a time where only one or two people controlled everything and now-a-days that was not the case.

This was an issue because he knew that guess was under the same old school tarring and mind-set that he was and couldn't see the future with the commission having to share power, share cities and states and share money.

He looked up and out of deep thought to find his oldest great grandson king staring at him and asking him did he ever stop thinking.

This questioned garner another question in return to which Mr Mathew asked king did your father ever stop thinking.

Most kids that were in the middle of this interact would have felt uncomfortable but King smiled and answered the question stating that maybe thinking too is what got monster killed.

Kings thrived himself as the rebirth of monster where he was quicker, smarter, faster and way more brutal then his father was.

He didn't think this as a sign of disrespect but as an honour for when it was his turn the world wouldn't be able to rid of him as easy as they had did his father.

The Old man looked at his younger sibling and told him that his day would come but for now he needed to leave how to live because he was sure that he already knew how to die.

King walked away from his great grandfather shaking his head at the fact that he still didn't believe that king was ready.

He was nineteen years old now the same age as his sister when she died with their father in their house.

Since that day he knew what it was he would do it.

King knew that he would take his father's place and turn the organization into the future. He and Nunu would always discuss this fact whenever they were amongst themselves.

He had a younger brother by the name of Isaiah which Nunu was the mother too.

He treated and respected her as his mother would have wanted from him in that regards.

He sat in that panic room and watches rage in Nunu's eye and knew that she did not have an issue being out there protecting his father and mother with her own life.

A week before his Delhi king's father completed a book deal that advanced him 1 .5 million dollars and the book itself sold millions and was listed as a bestselling for close in a year after it dropped.

Word had gotten out that the book writer was actually a gangster in the street and the book to kill a monster was base off of some true facts that had transpired in his life.

When the public found this out the book sales had soared and the financial kick back was crazy.

Not that William was short of cash flow; put it left a nice sum of funds going to king and Nunu without worries.

Our course the commission gave Nunu and king a Gump sum of 25 million dollars and Monster and Lisa had over 19 million in the stash that also went to King and Nunu.

So, they were rich at least three times over, so money was never an issue growing up.

In Bahamas Nunu and King had made a life for themselves and stayed below the radar. Monster's grandfather had purchased the vacation resort for Nunu and King as an investment business so the generate cash and give something to do.

Nunu didn't have an issue being the owner of a vacation resort but she focused a lot of her time raising King and Isaiah and informing them of just how cold of a world they lived in. King was different since the day his father and mother were murdered. Nunu watched him watch the same CCTV footage of his father and mother in the gun fight that ended their life and one thing that she remembers to this date was the fact that king didn't blink and didn't shed one tear as he watched the murder.

King was becoming something special kind of like a version of monster 2.5.

Nunu paid close attention because she knew automatically that he would play a pivotal role if or when she return to the united states to take back what was rightfully hers.

Nunu also was aware that grand dad was sick and probably not going to make it much longer.

She and king never held a discussion about the matter but she was certain that King felt and believed the same thing.

She also knew that they Roth understood that if and when that happened that she, King and Isaiah was going home to take control and revenge the death of lists, JJ and monster.

Nunu watched from the window King's interaction with his great grandfather and saw that King respected him but really didn't care of what his opinion was on whatever it was that they was taking about.

She watched in amazement knowing that king would be an unstoppable force when he was fully ready to go.

It was a nice Sunday afternoon when Mr Mathews called a one on one meeting with guess telling him that he didn't feel that he had much long left before he went off to see his grandson monster.

Guess cheered the bowman up but knew that he was right in what he was feeling.

Guess asked him in case he was right was there anything that he needed to know or deal with in ant particular fashion.

The Old man laughed and looked into guess eyes over the laptop screen to the point where guess felt as if Mr Mathews was looking into his soul.

The Old man explained that he believed that king was ready and he also had reason to believe shortly after his death that Nunu would return to the states.

Guess asked him what he expected from the commission and personally he if that happened.

The Old man stated to guess that he was glad that he asked that and then he spent the next hour explaining that if Nunu and King ever returned to the United States that she and King was to replace him and become the chair couple as mother and son of the commission.

The Old man was under the impressions that guess was upset by the silence that was on the line of the video chat or that maybe even the connection had gotten stuck.

But guess was actually relived because he was well prepped by monster for the position ten years ago but had been having a lot of issues adapting to the new times and the sharing of power.

He voiced this to the Old man and he explained that from all his interactions with his great grandson he didn't think that cracking the whip and regaining full power under the commission would be a problem at all.

The Old man went on to explain the fire that he always saw in King's eyes whenever they spoke.

He told guess that he was able to tell that the fire was there and present and that King and Nunu was just nursing it and understanding how to control it if anything.

The Old man was certain that Nunu and King didn't believe that he has able to see what it was that he saw so neither of them ever voiced what it was that they really felt.

He really loved things that way.

It was the same relationship that he had with his grandson Williams and he loved it that was so, that he could always have their backs just as he had William's back.

Mr Mathews knew that even though he was a fugitive from the law and would more than likely die a fugitive that he had plenty of Allies in the southern section of the east coast that could always swatch from the shadows and ensure Nunu 's King and Isaiah's safety for as long as they were alive.

The Old man and guess concluded their meeting and both went back to doing what it was that they were doing before the meeting had started.

Mr Matthews always kept a bad ass Bahamian rich around him if not for his sexual escapades just for eye candy.

Today was nothing different.

He had a dark chocolate joint by the name of China that catered to his every move and rode the best dick in the West Indies.

He called her over to him and asked her to sit down with him on the back porch in the sun chairs because he needed to speak to her.

Once China was seated he took the next few hours speaking to her and watching the sunset. He explained to her that when Nunu and King leave the island she was to move and live with them as a maid and watch over them and protect King and Isa with her life.

He told her that her and Nunu and the same skill set and he knew that Nunu could fend for herself.

Mr Matthew then went on to tell China the account information for a secret account with 2 million dollars inside of it that was now hers and then he explained that there was deeds to two properties on the Island to two different Mansions in the upstairs bedroom dresser draw. Those two deeds were to be given to her mother and Grand Mother.

China didn't waste any time trying to figure out what was Mr Matthew's issue and why was he giving away money as if he was leaving today for the afterlife because she knew first hand that he was dying.

Mr Matthew had developed stage four cancer three years ago and had never informed anyone other than her in his life.

He never wanted to come across as weak and would die with that as a secret.

After he was down and sat quite. China bent over and began to suck Mr Matthew's dick while he watched the sunset and listened to Bob Marley playing on his wireless speaker.

The next morning as China was outside handling the errands that Mr Matthew gave her the night before, King was knocking on his great grandfather's door wondering why he wasn't answering.

Every morning for the last ten years they had tea and coffee and spoke about his father until he left the house for school or for the business that they had built since moving to the Island.

King Immediately called Nunu who rushed over to the estate and used the spare key to open the bedroom door.

Inside of the room King and Nunu came to find Mr Matthew dead with a big smile on his face as if he died with a secret.

On the red next to him was a two page letter that laid out the location for over 100 million dollars in cash and deeds to four estates within the United States, One on each coast in North South East and West.

They both agreed that keeping the death quiet was the best course of action to take, so they enlisted the assistance of some of the Island people and China's family members to place Mr Matthew's body on a boat and set it to the Ocean.

That night monsters best friend his Allie and his Grandfather was set off to sail the ocean until he came and brought him home with him.

The Return Home

After the death of King's great Grand Father, Nunu, King and China sat down to discuss them returning back to the United States.

The first order of business was to kill Julius baby mother who was directly responsible for the death of Lisa, JJ and Monster.

Nunu was undecided on if she should do it personally send China of have fugues and the commission do it as a welcome home gift,

Nunu understood and respected the position that China was given in their lives from the Old man because she once held the same position in monster's life.

She didn't think that they needed more killers under the same roof because she was 110% certain that King was ready even though he hadn't yet committed murder.

Her baby boy Isaiah was so sweet but she also saw the killer instant within him as well. China explained that she would have like to deal with the situation personally because she witness through Mr Mathew's just how much pain he endured from the death of his only grandson.

Nunu starred chin down questionably as if asking her without speaking words was she really ready for what she just said.

China laughed inside knowing exactly what it was that it was that Nunu was thinking.

In a blink of her eyes she had a straight blade razor in her hands and at Nunu 's throat before Nunu knew what was happening,

China then said to Nunu "I looks like you are the rusty one baby girl" Nunu then explained that pulling a nice move once was a gummy and that murder in the United States was a different story, especially with the enforcement agencies and the technology that they used when solving crimes.

China shook her head and stated to Nunu please do not be fool by the laid back innocent demeanour that i display.

There is a reason Mr Matthew kept me around out of all the other ladies that he had before during and after me.

The entire time that they were talking, Nunu was positioning herself where she could pull out her 22 calibre gun on China.

Just as she made her move to show china how easy the dropped could be put on her, China made her move in defence.

As Nunu 's arm extended outwards China's left palm was placed on Nunu 's chest and Nunu was pulled towards her to feel the gun being yanked out of her hand and pointed back adhered.

China gave Nunu an evil snare which then made Nunu realized that China was just as dangerous as or more dangerous than she was herself.

Throughout the years Nunu had no need to practice the skills that she head live by or so long and it was obvious that she was out of shape and rusty just a China stated.

For that she explained to China that starting the next day that they would train together, run together workout together until each was just as sharp as the next.

Nunu lived on the same estate as Mr Matthew with King and Isa.

She had not ben with a man since being with monster.

Yes there was men tripping over each other to get to her but Nunu knew that no man would be able to console her and deal with the life style that she lived and may have been preparing to go back to.

So for that reason she concentrated on King and Isaiah and settled for self-pleasure of a real man.

King had always kept in contact with his cousin and best friend Vincent who was Jennifer's son.

He knew like Nunu did that one day he would return to the states and didn't want to not have any friends.

Keeping in contact with Vincent had it benefits anyway because instead of becoming a Grade A kid he was the leader of the Gorilla stone Ape in Charolaise no and controlled 50% of the drug trade and almost all of the killing.

So when Vincent saw that King was calling him he wasted no time answering the phone to the Nigga he considered to be his brother.

King went through the normal check in conversation and then asked Vincent how was things from him.

Vincent never spoke to King in slang or gang tone because he respected King and looked up to King and always wanted to how and shows that level or respect.

Vincent informed King that everything was great and that the only thing missing in his life was King.

King explained that things will not be like that for long.

Vincent did ask any question but knew what his job was. He had to prep the city for King's return and informs all his blood Niggas of what was coming their way.

He always spoke about King so everyone knew him without meeting him.

When king hang up the phone with Vincent he attempted to call Nunu to inform her of what had taken place in his conversation with Vincent.

Nunu knew Vincent and his mother very well; she was like a sister to Jennifer and aunt to Vincent.

Nunu saw King calling and decided to end the call but to call back via face time.

When King picked up the face time he was under the impression that Nunu wanted to speak about something without concern of it being on a direct line.

What he saw was something that he didn't expect.

Nunu and China was both in spandex clothing and doing workout moves like planks and pull ups.

In the background China had in both hands ten pound dumb bells and was throwing jabs at the air.

King knew that this workout would make her hands two times faster than it was when the bells were not in her hands.

King spoke to his mother but was looking pass her as he spoke because he had always been fixated on China for years now and since he was of the age would have loved to try her.

Nunu told king to stay focus and explain what took place in his call with Vincent.

When the call was over and Nunu went back to finish her half of the work out retuning China told her that she needed to keep a close eye on King before she becomes a grandmother because she had no problem at all throwing that pussy on him.

Nunu had never really heard China speak so blunt but already knew exactly what it was she saw in King.

Like his father and grandfather both King was handsome and stood six feet even.

He did Poses something rare that monster and Mr Matthews didn't have which was rareness about him that showed he was calculated and diligent in everything that he said out of his mouth and every move that he made.

Nunu was basically King's mother and she found it attractive so she knew what women who held no relations to King must have felt about this attribute.

China was young and Loyally Nunu saw this in how she dealt with King's grandfather. What Nunu was trying to figure out was did Mr Mathew discussion about this and King ever have their own discussion about this that was being displayed all of a sudden.

Nunu made a mental note that she would speak with King to find out on her own.

King laughed at the thought of his mother getting back in shape, he knew that she didn't lose it but he saw in her eyes lately that she was concerned about her shape, looks and maybe a few other things.

King was different from his father in many ways and one of those ways was that he did not believe in changes and opportunities.

He believed that was what brought about his death.

Monster been knew of Nunu's and Julius relationship but still sent her to do the job as an act of power.

No one knew his mother Lisa and she could have simple rung Julius doorbell as a fed worker blew his brains out and his family would still be alive today.

King knew that Nunu rethought this same factor every day for the last ten years and has never reached a feasible conclusion on how the matter col has been avoided.

King was treacherous in his mind and how he viewed things.

He had already murdered five people since relocating to the Bahamas and the only people on the Island that knew was his grandfather and China.

Mr Matthews had used King for some jobs that were first easy ASA training and the last two were more difficult but easy for King because of the age factor and element of surprise that he presented.

In Mr Matthews eyes dead was dead and that was all that matter.

King took on this same mentality as well.

King would protect his mother and brother with every bone in his body so Nunu didn't need to do much outside of being a mother and running a legit business once they got back to the states.

King sat down in front of his mother's lap top and look into the encrypted folder where he knew all of Julius baby mother's information was stored.

He attached the folder to an email and pressed the send button.

He then picked up the phone and called his brothers school to inform them that he would be picking him up for the day.

Afterwards he texted his mom and told her to take the rest of the day off that he and Isaiah would be hanging out catch a movie and chilling.

When Nunu Got the text mgs she wasted no time responding. She knew that whatever she said to King would stop him from whatever he had plan with his little brother.

The two of them acted walked and spoke a like so she continued to focus on her training with China.

Back in Charlotte North Carolina two females was sat down and given orders to travel to Orangeburg South Carolina and to murder an entire family.

The person giving the order knew that these two batches would be able to accomplish the mission without excuses Dry would die reform returning with the job undone.

Vincent gave the two women their marching orders and copy of the file that he was emailed and sent them about their way.

Guess held an emergency meeting, unlike monster guess was all old school and liked to meet in person.

Guess was from meekness and this week was a music convention in Nashville which he wanted to use a cover for all of them.

Guess had rented a conversion conference room at the hotel that was located downtown Nashville.

He had the room sweep for listening devices and then had a signal blocker install because he didn't want any calls to interrupt the meeting and he didn't want anyone to have the ability to record their voices.

9:00 pm they all entered the room and took their seat and awaited to hear what guess had to say, unlike monster guess rarely had meetings and usually settled for send a direct message by carrier versus exposing everyone like this.

Each member for this purpose came with their own security detail who kept constant surveillance on the hotel without bringing notice to themselves.

When guess was properly seated he looked around and explained to everyone that he would waste no time explaining, the purpose for the meeting understanding everyone's concerned about all paving in one location at the same time.

Guess got straight to the point.

He explained that for the last ten years he had kept in direct contact with Nunu and Monster's sons King and Isaiah as well as speaking with the Old Man Mr Matthew.

Mr Matthew asked that in the event of his death that I hold this meeting and play this video of him giving his final request to the commission.

Without wasting time Guess pressed plays a video stream mg device and the video of the Old man appeared on the 75 inch TV screen on the wall in the conference room.

Old man Matthew started to speak and it was like seeing a damn ghost or predicting his demised.

The first thing that he said as soon as the video came on was direct at prestige.

The Old man explained to prestige that he would have been dead years ago if he didn't speak on his behalf to his Grand Son and make him understand that not every member would be as sharp as the next but that they a member nevertheless.

This was something that prestige had always felt and believed, but understood that monster still accepted him no different and backed his moves just as hard as the next member of the commission even when he had made a bad play from the jump.

The Old Man then state the reason for the video.

King and Nunu believe that I am unaware of their intentions to return back to the state and to possible take control of the commission.

For this I am ordering each one of you to not only accept this but to step down and allow them to run this organization as they see fit.

If this request is not honoured I am leaving orders to any and all organizations that are attached to me to withdraw their respect and access to their cities to the commission.

The Old Man then spoke to Guess but it was as if he was in the room on a zoom call because his eyes focused right on the exact chair that Guess was sitting at.

There was no way that a dead man could have predicted the sitting arrangement after his demise in a recorded video.

Guess you did a great job as chairman but I and you both know that you accepted that position more out of respect for my Grandson then eagerness to lead.

You are a great leader and pose tons of wisdom, but you and I are dinosaurs in this game and Dry Insight and advice is worth more than our actions.

Guess shook his head up and down in agreeance with the Old Man on the screen.

This agreeance was a shock to everyone because Guess never gave off that type of energy every in the ten years that he lead the family.

The Old man then spoke in conclusion tone.

My great grandson King is different from his father he is more quicker to make hard decision and he does not care to give second chances so please everyone me sharp and come correct because King's only care is the legacy of Monster and the resurgence of the commission globally, so he will not hesitate to eliminate anyone that comes across as being weak and that goes for the family as well.

Rah spoke aloud as if the Old man could hear him. "I guess the young boy is monster 2.5 huh?"

Like he was alive the Old man shook his head and said exactly man.

He answers the statement Rah said aloud but that man thought to himself.

Right after that the video screen went blank.

Every looked around to what Guess asked was there any questions.

No one had the heart to speak out against Monster or the Old man even though they were dead.

There were people who believed that they should have been next to the Chairman seat but would respect the decision made nevertheless.

Two weeks later Guess received internee for Nunu, King and Issiah and a fourth person China Black.

The antennary was attached to an email request for an estate in hill dead South Carolina that was single gated and equipped with the state of the art camera and security system and panic rooms and stash room on every floor.

The only response that Guess wrote back in the email was I will be ready for you all.

Bloody Salon

The two women who entered the beauty salon to inquire about prices and vitality were identical sisters. The owner who was also one of the beauticians was present at the time of the inquiry and noticed that the sisters were not from Orangeburg but did have a heavy Southern accent. This accented somewhat but the owner at ease but she still kept her eye on them.

Since the sisters were not from town the second in command of the salon approached and spoke with the sister and explain that she was the manager and the person who ran the shop. Tisha and Tasha asked for the micro braids and explained that they were in town for the state home coming at the street college right there in Orangeburg.

This piece of information placed everyone that was a little suspicious more at ease because of the fact that many people travelled to Orangeburg to experience the state home coming football game.

The saloon owner continued to work on the customer head that she was doing but kept her ears tuned to the sisters. She could explain why but they left a funny vibe on her.

Since she had murdered and killed Monster and his wife and daughter in her hunt for Nunu who was responsible for the death of her own son father Julius. The saloon owner always watched her back knowing that she had made one crucial mistake that night.

That mistake was that she killed the Wong Bitch and that Nunu was still a live somewhere out there.

Since that year she had slowed down and took all of the money that Julius left behind and invested it in numerous business throughout the South such as houses, a hair salon and a car deal ship.

His brother and cousins as well as Julius brothers and cousins still maintained their connection with the Mexicans and still controlled the drug market in South Carolina.

Even more than before they had been successful in moving into other cities outside of Denmark such as Bamberg, Earhart, Colombia, Florence and Sumter.

This was a move that was the cause of Julius death and a move that drove a wedge between her and the family which resulted in her falling back.

To check the schedule book to see if they could fit them in.

As she walked away Tisha voiced that they would be willing to pay extra if it could be done today or tonight because they were expecting to hang out with a few people but didn't want to do so there head down.

As the manager went to the back office she saw the owner coming out of the bathroom and into the office to meet with her.

After a few second they agreed that they would stay back and do the sisters head together and deal with any issues if there were any from them.

After while the manager returned and informed the sister if they were willing to pay extra 100 they could return back after 5:00 pm to start on their braids.

Like that they left and prepared to kill the Birth who they had to kill and any other pellet that had gotten in their way.

Tisha and Tasha had studied the file and the photos in the file and knew exactly what the woman that they were looking for looked like.

So when the owner sat in the saloon and acted like she was not done of their heads that was exactly what they expected of her anyway.

The twins retreated to their hotel room that was located on 601 hew and took the time to prepare and plan out their massacre.

They weren't planning to just kill Julius Baby Moms they were told to leave a message and that was what the planned to do.

At the same time that twins were in the Orangeburg getting ready for the salon.

There were two four tarsus with fore sled agents in them a piece.

Since it was home coming week and Julius cousins and brothers were all at the cook out in a trailer park in Denmark showing off their new car and talking shit to each other.

The agents in the tarsus made a loop before parking two blocks over to discuss their approach.

There was no doubt that their target had gun on them or near them because of the lineout gun laws of the South.

Julius first cousin was a mirror image of Julius and his son. They talked alike, walked a like and many times fucked the same women due to their similarities.

Julius first cousin name was Travis and he stood six feet three inches in height and weighed 250 BLS in weight.

When Travis seen the two ford cars drive by them he felt a funny sense of the fact that sled was in Denmark but they didn't know it.

Travis shook the feeling of because he was certain that his family had enough pull to know if they were in trouble or not, so he didn't waste time mentioning the two cars to anyone else at the cook out.

Two of the men that were in the Taros gone to the trunk of the cars while the other six men converted.

In the trunk of the cars the two men retrieved two AR-15 assault Rifle type's guns with inferred beam and night vision scope on them.

Closing the trunk they approached the other six men to engage in the conversations.

From a quick glance you could not tell the difference from the real sled agents of the state of South Carolina from the eight men.

After a brief conferring it was agreed that the two men with the assault weapons would approach the cook out through the woods while the remaining six would blank from the cars.

Travis was rolling up his seventh blunt when he thought he saw someone moving in the woods from the rear of the last trailer in the trailer park.

Travis decides to say something this time and he told his brother to pay attention as he then reached for his 9MM S&W and started towards the woods.

The brother informed everyone else and every one began reaching for their guns.

The two men approaching from the woods saw what was going on and readied their own weapons for combat.

In the background music from a Southern artist Debby blasted through the speakers and a lot of the people in the trailer park didn't really know what was going on even though they saw guns being raised.

The two ford Tarsus speed to the front of the trailer park with red and blue lights flashing. This took everyone attention off of the woods and to the lights from the sled agents.

When the agents jumped out of their cars there was a second of hesitation and that was when the first cousin fell.

The music was still blasting but everyone was able to see that someone had been shot from the way that his body jerked as he fell to the floor.

The agents then started firing on everyone in the trailer parks women and kids included. From the woods there were flashes being seen but no gunshots being heard.

Travis didn't need more to happen to reach the conclusion that either the sled agents were here to kill them or they weren't sled agents at all.

So he started shooting into the woods in the direction of where he saw the flashes had heard the noise.

In the woods two men had taken up a lower position and continued to fire non-stop -at anyone that was not on the ground already.

The six agents had spreader out as they move forward into the trailer park from different position using side arms shooting and killing anything that moved dogs and cats included. Travis brother had taken a shot in the stomach but was still moving and returning fired back.

His brain could register why sled agents was shooting at him and his family especially when they had committed no crime at all.

One of the six agents took two shots to his chest but smiled at Travis's brother and focused on him until he had unloaded his clip into the brother's face.

Travis saw this and realized that they had body armour on and without head shots that everyone would die.

He also notice that neither of the agents were retargeting or showing any signs of retreating, they had come to kill everybody to the trailer park and they would be successful. At this if he didn't do something.

From inside one of the trailer Joe was getting his dick suck when the shots started.

He didn't wait to find out what was going on but instead grabbed the Orica from underneath the sofa pillows and ran for the door of the Trailer.

That move would come to be the move that cost him his life.

When he reached the door to the trailer he saw in and opened the door he saw sled agent looking Bach at him.

Thinking that it was a raid taking place Joe lowers his gun until he saw that the agent had trained his weapon in his direction.

Before he was able to react Joe was shooting three times to his head and the back of his brains fell into the trailer and onto the floor.

Travis witness of all this and knew that he was dead just as the AR-15 shots pieced his body and sent his soul up to God.

The two men exited the .foods and walked throw the Trailer Park finishing off people that were on the ground that may have not been dead.

They were well aware that there were people in the trailers who they had left alive.

Those people would make great messengers.

All eight of the men got back into the two ford Tarsus and proceed to head back to Charlotte because their jobs in Denmark was completed and they knew that Vincent that would be happy that all of them made it back in one piece.

It was roughly 5:45pm and the twins were aware of what had taken place in Denmark and were hopping that the saloon didn't get words yet.

This was a concern because they were outside of the saloon for 15 minutes before the manager and the beauticians pulled up to start their hair.

The twins purposely wore matching outfits of short shorts and tank tops to message that there was no place that they could conceal a weapon.

But in all actually the twins hands themselves were weapons and one of them had a 22 Cal Pistol in her crouch area.

They were allowed into the salon and asked if they wanted a drink or something before they got their head started.

Both sisters explained that they smoked but didn't drink and just really wanted to get to get the micro braids done knowing that it will hours before they were completed.

Julius baby moms was a little more at ease but still felt funny about something that she couldn't quite explain.

Tisha sat in one chair while her twin sister Tasha sat in the opposite chair. Julius baby moms asked Tisha was she allergic to any certain hair shampoo or conditioners, to which she explained that she was not.

The Manager heard this and was coming from the back of the salon with the shampoo and conditioner for both sisters. Over the last few years Julius Baby moms hadn't been in the gym so she was not fit and as quick on her reflexes as she once was.

This would bring about her death today.

The twins were mordent day killing machines and fucking machines.

They had been involved with criminal activity since the age of 8 years old when they witnessed their mother kill their father for sexual abusing the girls.

The mother had claimed self-defence and the twins backed up her story when that was the further thing from the truth on what happened.

Before you knew it the twins were an hour into their hair do and were sitting under the dryer machine allowing their hair to dry before beginning the braiding stage.

Just as the manager approached Tasha to check on her hair, Tasha stood up and in a blink of an eye slit her through with the straight edge razor that he had tucked in her sleeve like an old school monster.

When Julius Baby moms seen some commotion taking place she look up to find Tisha pointing at her head a small 22 calibre gun.

Tisha had that drop on her from the very beginning and Julius baby moms knew that this was the end of the road for herself.

She knew that her salon didn't see many new faces like these twin sisters.

She asked one question who sent you.

Which Tisha responded that Nunu sends her regards and without any thing other being said Tisha emptied the 22 calibre clip into her face.

The twins then turned around and began to search for flammable content that could be used to set a fire as to ensure that they left no evidence of themselves behind.

Tasha found a bunch of Ariel spray cans and Tisha decided to use some hair gel and clothes to set a small fire that would grew fast as they exited the location.

The sister got in their car and speed away towards highway 85 back in the direction of Charlotte North Carolina.

Vincent forwarded both encrypted messages to king back in Bahamas and told him that he had sent him and his mother a coming home present.

Later that day King discussed with Nunu and China what had taken place in the states and also she informed Guess that business was complete and that the commission was slow and that needed not to happen again.

Hilton Head

A Private jet landed at a small private air strip located on the outskirts of Hilton Head South Carolina at 9:15am.

Exiting the jet was a prominent east coast defence attorney by the name of Jerry Solves.

He was in Hilton Head South Carolina for one purpose only and that was to purchase a large estate at the request of Guess and the commission.

He did not know who would be living in the estate but he did know particular modifications that were needed and that would have been started in construction before he left the town.

This was a strange order because he was to be and in out of Hilton Head before the sun set on the same day that he landed.

Guess wanted the house to be equipped with a panic room on each floor and two storage rooms that were not on the blueprints.

Mr. Solves had taken care of a lot of strange orders in the past for the commission but this purchase had to top the list.

It was as if Pablo Escobar and his family would be staying there with all the features that were to be added.

Guess made it clear that the total estate had to be able to avoid thermo detection and had trip system that would inform the people inside of company from roughly two and a half miles out.

The attorney had a shell corporation set up top make the purchase and had already made arrangements to speak with the family that currently owned the property.

The owners did not stay on the estate but rather in a small wooden house about a half a mile off from the estate.

When Mr. Slovis pulled up he was in an Impala that he rented from enterprise and his attire was not business like but represented a lawyer that may be heading into retirement.

He explained that he owned a corporation and would like to purchase the estate cabs under the business.

Mr. Slovis then went into explaining how he cherished privacy and loved the estate because he intended on having pays like dogs and things.

The owner was found of the city lawyer.

They had been married for 30 years and their kids had gone off to the service.

The owner's names were John Henry and Joy Henry and they were born and raised in Hilton head South Carolina.

Mr. Slovis explained that he was prepared to make his purchase today to which the Henry's asked if he actually had 1.7 million dollars at hand.

1.7 million was peanuts to a lawyer that represented the largest drug distributor on the East Coast, but Mr. Slovis didn't want to seem like he could shit that type of money on call.

He asked if he could do out to his car.

When he returned he had a suit case that contained 1.5 million in large bills.

When Mr. Slovis opened the suit case and showed the Henry's what was inside of the suit case Joy Henry asked him if the money was real,

Mr. Slovis explained that he would attempt fly across five states with a suit case full of fake money.

Mr. Henry on the other hand was taken back and thought that the lawyer may not have been who he said he was.

So he asked Mr. Slovis if he minded to meet them meet them down at their lawyer office to make the deed transfer complete and Mr. Slovis had no problem with that.

Mr. Slovis re-treated his car and waited for the Henry. While Joy got herself together Mr. Henry contacted his attorney and told him what was going on and if he could run a check on a New York state attorney by the name of Jerry Slovis.

He told him that the man had a suit case full of money and wanted to buy the estate.

Mr. Henry also asked him to have the sheriff at the office just in case there was any problem that needed to be iron out if the lawyer wasn't who he said he was.

Ten minutes later Jerry Slovis was following John and Joy Henry in to the town of Hilton head.

He was laughing to himself because he could just imagine what the Henry's was up to thinking that he was a fraud or a crook. Southern people always thought the worse of anyone that had a northern accent.

The Henry's lawyer immediately hung up with them and contacted the town's sheriff to ask that he stood in for the meeting and sale of the estate.

Sherriff McNeil knew the Henry's personally and would assist them in any fashion that they requested.

He also did have any tolerance for out of towers who attempted to scam anyone from the state of South Carolina.

Attorney Jerry Slovis already anticipated something of this nature and that was his reason for making the purchase under a shell corporation that had been established for over ten years now.

Mr. Solves parked his car two cars behind the Henry's and waited for them to direct him to the exact building where that attorney office was located.

He pulled behind him the same suit case containing all of the 1.5 million dollar that he intended to use to complete that purchase.

As he entered the office Mr. Slovis swore that he heard the crackling of warlike talkies from a law enforcement officer.

Mr. John Harry and his wife went in to the office first and after ten minutes exited to speak with Mr. Slovis.

Mr. Slovis stood up and walked into the office that the Henry's just exited and made sure that he towed his luggage along with him.

The Henry's followed and when they were all inside of the office the Sheriff appeared and their attorney topic greet Mr. Slovis.

They asked for his identification card and the Sheriff ran it over the radio.

The Henry attorney explained that he look Mr. Slovis up and saw that he did actually pass the bar some years ago but just bunted to double check everything for a sale of this magnitude.

Mr. Slovis explained that he did not take any precocious personal with the raise of fraud throughout the world it was rest all parties.

Everything that was taking place was something that was anticipated by the commission Guess and attorney Jerry Slovis.

While the sheriff was running his name Mr. Slovis produced the paper for the corporation that he would be making the purchase under showing that the corporation was ten years old and very profitable.

The sheriff got the call back that cleared Mr. Slovis and the Henry's attorney again began to apologize.

John Henry sat across the table dumb struck because he was certain that Mr. Slovis was here to scam him out of his property that has been in the family for the generations.

Mrs. Henry seen the embarrassment on her husband's face so she decided to apologize to Mr. Slovis for him.

Mr. Slovis again voiced that there was no harm taken. He then asked the Henry's and their attorney if they could get down to business.

Mr. Slovis opened the suit case and began taking the money out of the suit case to sit on the table.

He then asked the sheriff to please stay and assist and protect him with a giant smile on his face.

The Sheriff stated that he had other business but Mr. Slovis then asked him to please stay because he wanted to actually speak to him about the town of Hilton head and find out a few things.

One of the first questions was if the sheriff knew of any good contractors and construction companies that he could refer to him because there would be some changes that he would like to have done to the property before moving in.

The sheriff informed Mr. Slovis that he had a son and a nephew that actually own their construction company and would give him their card.

After searching through his pockets and not being able to find one the sheriff called his son and asked if he could give his number to the out of town lawyer that needed some work done out by the Old man Henry's estate,

Mr. Slovis has given the son's direct number and told to call anytime of the day or night.

The sheriff assisted in the counting of one million and five hundred dollars which took close to four hours to be counted.

Afterwards John and Joy Henry signed the deed to the estate over to the city lawyer and concluded the business.

Mr. Slovis asked the sheriff to have lunch with him and if he could call his son to join them. The sheriff didn't have much going on for the day.

The crime rate in Hilton head South Carolina was little to none at all so spending an hour for lunch with a lawyer who just purchased property in his town was seemed as a courtesy. The sheriff gave Mr. Slovis the direction to a diner down on Main Street and told him to meet him there that they made the best fried chicken in the state of South Carolina.

Mr. Slovis was at the diner and situated ten meters before the sheriff arrived with his son and nephew.

On the table where he was sitting Mr. Slovis had copies of the blue prints to the property and land out reviewing and making marks as if he was the contractor that would be doing the work.

As soon as everyone was sited the attorney got straight down business.

Mr. Slovis explained that he would like to make changes to the property and also wanted the sheriff's input in the changes since he was law enforcement and an expert in this neck of the woods.

The sheriff looked at the city slick attorney and asked him what he had in mind at this property because if he was part of some kind of cult that he would not have it in his town at all.

Upon hearing this lawyer reached inside of his suit coat and pulled out an envelope that contained 100, 000 grand and slid the envelope over to the sheriff and continued to talk.

The people that will be living in this estate are two women ten year old and eighteen year old boys.

They are very wealthy and also pledge to invest 10 of their wealth into this town yearly.

What they want is animosity, privacy and safe keeping.

The sheriff asked was there drugs involved.

The Attorney answer was short and simple. They will not conduct any business in your town or in the surrounding cities to Hilton head South Carolina.

The Sheriff's son and nephew sat quiet and allowed the sheriff to think and make his own decision in regards to the conversation and matters that were being put on the table.

The Sheriff reluctantly agreed to be at assistance if what the city slick lawyer was being honest.

See the lawyer turned to the son and nephew and began running down what he needed to be modified in the property.

The lawyer explained that he needed a sound proof panic room on every floor within the estate that ran on its own power supply and separate ventilation system.

There needed to be a gun safe room that was secretly install on each floor as well.

The outside of the estate needed to be gated in with fencing that gave the ability to become electric at night or whenever the owners needed it.

The lawyer also explained that the entire estate and woods tap sounded the estate need to be equipped with CCTV that allowed the owners to view the roads and paths ways that ran near and around the property.

The lawyer explained that the property was also to have a direct tunnel that lead to the boat house that ran beside the lake in the rear of the estate.

The front was to be fully grassed from entrance fence to two yards before the front door with timed watering and two dog houses on each side of the yard.

The lawyer asked the contractors if they had the skills and ability to complete such a task. Each of the cousins had lived for a job like this were there could build all the secret rooms and things that they will never build in their own house.

The contractors explained that they may need six weeks just to get all of the supplies so that the job may take 180 days in its entirety.

The contractors then went on to explain that the job would be roughly two hundred grand jobs.

Mr. Slovis shook his head acknowledging the price.

The meeting was concluded and the contractors left the sheriff and his new rich lawyer friend to enjoy their lunch.

The sheriff said to the lawyer that he must really represent some very wealthy folks.

The lawyer explained that the people that he represented where more than clients and where folks that he would die for.

The sheriff answered then I would.

Take them in and treat them with the same respect and love that you do.

As long as you promise in visit Hilton head twice, a year for vacations.

The lawyer and the sheriff shock on that agreement and enjoyed their lunch.

When he got back inside of his rental he called Guess and Explained that six weeks from the day the estate will be ready for move in and then called the pilot and told him to prepare the G7 for Peterborough airport that they was going home.

Later that night after her daily work out with China and Nunu received a video call from Guess just as she finished getting dressed from a nice hot shower.

Guess gave her the news on the Estate and told her that he was ready to turn over all power back to the right Nunu if she has ever thought that things would turn out the way that they did for her.

Nunu answer was straight forward.

Nunu explained that she always knew that she would fuck monster but having his kids and taking control of his legacy she could have never predicted.

With that Nunu called her baby Issiah to the room to sleep with her because she wanted to cry at the thought of monster being dead and her having to life the rest of her life without.

Two of a Kind

In his room on the other side of the property King was working out doing 50 clips of put up and sit ups. He also had the shower running because he intended to jump right in after him next few sets.

While he was on the floor doing his next set of sit ups king realize! That he was no longer alone inside of his bedroom. He jumped up and moved for his gun until he notices china standing with her back to his bedroom door with her fingers on her lips.

With her other hand she was ordering king to walk over to her.

King Barely saw this because he was to bust staring at China's body that had nothing on it. He then began to wonder to himself how she got to his room and if she walked through the hall naked like this.

If so he knew that his monster seen this and was watching him from the secret camera that she didn't know he had knowledge was placed in his bedroom.

As she was in a trance King slowly walked in the direction of China. Once he was face to face with her he stuck her lounge out and licked his face as watched his dick rise like a cobra that she knew it was.

China had been watching King since before the death of Mr Matthew and Mr Matthew was aware of this as well.

China just had respect and now that Mr Matthews was gone should plan to have King every which way that there existed.

Just as King's dick reached its fullest lengthens China lifted her left leg up and placed the heel of her foot on the top of the dresser that was closest to the door.

She then grabbed his dick and guided it to her bushy pussy until he was all the way inside of her body.

King wasted time entering China from the front. Her pussy was so tight and wet at the same time.

On his second pump into her pussy King and China locked eyes with each other and China mouth open wide to let out a silent moan.

For the next hour or so King and China fucked like rabbits without losing eye contact.

What neither of them knew was show from her room, that Nunu was watching the entire show from her room.

Isaiah had been sleep for some time when the alarm went off informed.

This made Nunu activate the camera that she had in her room.

What she saw didn't surprise her at all.

She was able to tell from working out with China and making small conversation that China found king attractive.

What she wasn't sure of was that China was ready to fuck king the way she was watching her fuck him on.

As Nunu watched King handle his business with China, Nunu couldn't help but think back to nights on her and monster fucking like crazy.

After the first night with her and Lisa present it was as if she had the green light to fuck him even when Lisa was not present and however she wanted.

And man was there some episodes that Nunu wanted to save forever. N

Ova realized that she had become hot and horny from watching King and China fuck and started playing with herself for a minute before stopping because she heard Issiah move around in the bed as if she was getting up.

Feeling reunited since losing 15LRS Nunu slid into a pair of spandex pants and a shirt and decided to go out by the resort bar for a drink to calm her nerves.

Nunu sat at the bar and waited for Phillip to serve her Amorado sour without ice. Philippe waited to make Nunu's drink last so that they can converse while he closed up for the night.

Nunu and Philippe spoke for close to an hour; Nunu went into talking about some expansion plans that she had in mind for the resort even though she had no intention on acting on those plans.

The more that they spoke the hornier Nunu got.

She asked Philippe to give her the keys to the storage room so that she can inventory the liquid while he finish closing the outside bar up.

Nov had nothing but sex on her mind as she walked to the storage room.

She hadn't been with a man in forever and Philippe always watched her walked and talk so intensely. When she got to the storage room Nunu stripped down to her panties and Bra and waited for him to come to the room behind her.

Ten minutes later Philippe walked into the room and pause for just a second before realizing that today was his lucky day.

He took his time and approached Nunu and took her hand slowly spanned her around and admired her body.

He then bent her over and licked her from her pussy to her ass hole until her saw that she was soak and wet and ready for him.

Nunu and Philippe fucked in that storage room until sun rise.

Afterwards she kissed him and told him that his never happened and made it back to her room and into the shower before the Isaiah woke up and looking for her.

Nunu at first couldn't believe that had taken place up she knew that she was way over due and that it wouldn't matter because in six weeks or less they would be leaving the Bahamas for the United States.

In his bedroom China had woke King up by sucking his dick and getting him ready for the best morning sex that he would secret camera in King's room and she performed for the camera knowing that Nunu was probably watching last night and right now at the current moment.

She didn't care because China sex drive would end up in Nunu bedroom one night for certain.

She watched Nunu's body loved the curved that she had and the age that had sat perfectly within her.

She knew that she would love Nunu more than Mr Matthews and King both and couldn't wait for that day to come about.

Back in Chevrolet North Carolina Vincent sat in his condo downtown smoking weeds while the two twin's sister walked around the apartment but ass naked.

The twins listened as Vincent half-brother spoke to him face time telling him about how bad he fucked China the night before.

The twins were Vincent personal batches that fucked him and him only.

They got excited listening to King's story because they knew that Vincent would get excited and in return that they would get the shit fucked out of them.

The twins had only had sex with one other man outside of Vincent after that Vincent has been the only man that has been in between their legs and they had no issue with that at all. King explained to Vincent that they would be back in the estate within two months tops and that China will be coming with them.

Vincent compared China to the twins and King guaranteed that China was more vicious than two of them together.

Hearing King compare China to them Tisha and Tasha began kissing and touching each other in places where sisters shouldn't.

Vincent turns his screen towards the sisters to show King that his bitches were more than through.

King watched as the sisters were toing kissing and fingering each other pussies.

King slowly turned the phone and the twins saw a chocolate goddess sucking King's dick slowly while staring into the video camera.

Vincent saw China's body and stood up as if he had never seen someone so thick and so beautiful.

Even the twins were stuck staring at a dark skinned version of China smiled and then finish sucking King's dick as if they were still alone.

King hung up cutting the video call and bent China over to fuck her again from the back.

The twins were in their bag double teaming their Nigga because they saw that he was in awe at the beauty of China and King's batch.

Tisha had Vincent entire dick in her throat and even though she was choking, she dared not stop at all.

Back in the Bahamas Nunu was dropping Issiah off to school put had to stop and speak with Philippe before leaving the resort?

She approached him and started conversation as if he didn't just fuck the shit other for hours.

She explained what she needed done around the resort before he opened the bar and told him to make sure that he forgot how pussy felt or he would die.

For some reason Philippe relived her and decided that he would always march to her beat when it came to anything involving them sexually.

Philippe was shocked but knew that he had no choice. Everton on the Island knew that Nunu was dangerous and also respected the power of Mr Matthews even though he had recently passed away.

In a nut shell Philippe looked at himself as the winner.

He fucked the baldest American in all of the Bahamas so what if she wanted nothing to do with him afterwards. Nunu walked away from Philippe making sure that he had an extra switch in her hip and got back inside of her car to take Isaiah to school, Issiah was the total opposite of Nunu and everything like his brother King and his father William.

Issiah stood 5'2 at eight years old was high yellow in complexion with the same 15 freckles on his face as William.

He was 50 quite and in closed that whenever he spoke everyone made sure that they listened to what it was that he had to say.

Issiah asked his mother why his brother King was not in the car with them that morning taking him to school.

Issiah looked up to king and always loved talking to him before school every morning.

Nunu didn't want to tell her son that his brother was busy having sex so she simply explained that he was preparing things for them moving back home.

Issiah asked that wasn't Bahamas home for them since he was burned there.

And Nunu explained that the world was way bigger than he could imagine ever.

And after dropping Issiah off at school Nunu and China had a workout session scheduled that she purposely wanted to keep seeing the energy between the two of them after what had taken place the night before.

Nunu was devious like that and she knew that so was China so she wanted to see if China would come out and speak on it first do attempt to keep it a secret.

That meant a lot to their relationship and Nunu believed that their relationship needed to be battle tested and pushed to the limit if they were returning the United States as a family.

Trust was crucial in her world and China still had to prove herself, Nunu became aware that China was already parked at the gym and waiting on her arrival when she pulled up.

Nunu stepped out of her jeep wrangler in work together and walked up to China's convertible 6 series BMW and waited for her to get out.

China signalled Nunu to get in the car and Nunu was confused but decided to do so.

When Nunu was seated in the car and the door was closed China and faced Nunu and began to explain to her what had happened last night between her and King.

China explained that Mr. Matthews was aware of the feeling and chemises that she had for King and gave his blessing for her to act on what it was that she felt once he was dead.

China then explained that she was grown and so was King but she felt that she had to be the first to explain to Nunu out of respect for their relationship.

Nunu stood silent and allowed China to went and talk her story and explained her reason some on why she was explaining to another grown woman why she fucked a grown man. When China was done Nunu looked at China and began to speak.

I was aware of the matter because I watched the entire and I saw how my baby twisted you up all night long.

I respect the fact that you are bringing this to my attention but further you never have to explain to me why you gave your pussy up to mother grown ass man unless I tell you that your pussy belongs to me.

We haven't buckled yet and hopefully we never will so that wasn't a major concern right now. Did you enjoy yourselves last night and this morning?

China smiled to herself and answers Nunu but telling her what she thought since she was watching.

Both of the women exited the car and went into the gym for their daily workout regime.

Before starting her workout China texted King and told him that Nunu knew and how she officially owned his dick so don't fuck around and get it cut the hell off.

City of Brotherly Love

Rah Rah sat in the square which was downtown hilly in his new may Bach truck waiting for his little bitch to come out of the shoe store.

He had been informed by Guess that he would be stepping down soon and king who was Monster' son would be returning back to the United States out of hiding to take back control.

This was something that he couldn't wait to get into because Rah had begun to get tired with the slow way of doing things that Guess likes to do.

There was too many different team and crews popping up everywhere and these crews had begun to cut into the commission's profit and bottom line numbers.

Rah like everyone else that sat at the table knew it was only a matter no time before a War broke out and that the commission was not the in position to take on a major war and come out on to.

So it was time of new leadership.

The chick that Rah was waiting returned to the truck running her mouth off in her iPhone.

He just sat there admiring the pretty bad bitch thinking back on the days before he was in the position that he is in now.

Rah thought back on how clever monster was whenever he made decision and how those decisions had always seemed to had front they may have not seem to be good ones at all.

The difference between Monster and most of the other members that sat at the table was that Monster lived and slept the commission.

He did nothing everyday but thought about the profit hurts of the family.

Rah wondered if King and Nunu at the chair would be anything like Monster and if the good old days of the commission ruling would ever return for them.

Elisha was 25 years old and had only been with two other men other than Rah.

Her older brother worked for Rah and had been the reason that they met when Rah came to a family function to talk him about what she took to be their street business.

After sneaking Rah Rash's numbers out of her brother's phone she had been fucking him for the last three months and never wanted to fuck another man afterwards.

Her brother was one of Rah Rash's most trusted soldiers and was also known in Philly to play with that gun.

Rah pulled organize where Elisha's brother was holding down a few blocks and had about a quarter million in drug money waiting to get picked.

Rah liked to allow Elisha to count the money and then bust her Ass before sending her home to her mother to drag about him.

At 25 years old Elisha pussy was so tight that it was like a virgin's pussy and Rah took advantage of this every opportunity that he got.

When he pulled up to the corner of 109 and Allegany Elisha brother black Rob was in front of the store signalling his sister to come and get the bag from out of the store.

He never wanted the street life for Elisha but if she had to be in the streets he figured with him she would be safe.

As she jumped out of the passenger and walked across the front of the truck to cross the street Elisha saw two unmarked police cars approaching and began to hesitate.

Looking back at Rah for orders on how to proceed, she saw that he was waving her on and didn't worry matter.

The cars passed by slowly while the driver eyed Rah but didn't stop at all.

Rah knew what that was all about. He had been a little late on his pay to the dirty cops but had ended a bonus and that was the way of telling him that was out there watching him.

The only thing was that those cops were actually holding him and not looking to ruin anything that Rah may have had going on at all in the city of brotherly love.

Black Rob watched his baby sister take the money bag to his boss before ducking back off the in to the back off the store to finish but Niggas access in dice and eat his Philly cheese sandwich.

Rah asked Elisha if she wanted to come home or spend the night with him which she told him she was going to his house so he had better told all his bitches to fuck off for the night. Elisha watched as Rah thumped throw his phone sending texts out probably telling his other hoes he was busy for the night before she told him that now he could get that ass hole since he been so thirsty for it lately.

Black Rob never allowed anyone he knew to mess around with his sister his mother or any other female member of his family.

What he knew was difference about Rah was the fact that Rah wasn't really a street nigga and was heavy into Islam and the nation of Islam which was the fruit of Islam) Rah was very well respected throughout the entire city of Philly and though he had numerous women he was not seen as a nigga that was really out there.

Black rob saw that his sister had a body on her and was destined to have a street nigga before she dealt with a square so allowing her and Rah to be somewhat of a couple he felt more better than it being a nigga from a viral crew.

Rob also knew that their mom was a gangster thought Elisha well she knew how top a roped a nigga in and keep him.

His mom had messed with all the ganisters in Philly before landing with his Pops Omar Bye who was living legend in the city and was still kicking and getting to a serious rag without the help of his son and the commission this made him very well respected as a true OG.

So Rob knew that Elisha was well trained in vase areas and never worries about her safety at all because there wasn't a crew and or a nigga that had the earth to take on the commission head on.

At least not in the city of brotherly love.

In plain field the nigga man had been low key the last few years and his man max had been the focal point of his organization throughout the entire state of New Jersey.

After monster was murdered man realized that the game wasn't all peaches and cream and had instituted in ten year plan to leave the game alone completely.

That ten year was coming up to this year and he had slowly been falling back form the turrets.

50 during the same year that Monster was killed man had begun to invest 20% of his profit into new construction development and now he was the proud own of two developments that had over 50 different houses on each of them.

When he got into the game he didn't see this far so he had nothing to complain about.

On the flip side of the game his crew and Max still controlled the heroine market in plain field New Jersey despite the different. Rob up crew that had been flocking to the state of New Jersey setting up shop and getting to the bag.

Manman wasn't top concerned about what other crews was doing but Max on the other hand was at the front line and in control of the organization and continued to believe that one of these other teams would become an issue for them and the commission.

So from time to time Max would hire out of owners to kill and Rob some of the other crew just to keep their knees on their neck as to speak.

Max was a military trained always thought ahead and in a strategic manner.

He never faulted Manman or felt that he was getting soft at all.

He understood that why Mannan made the decision he did and Max respected them as well.

After what Manman had gone through almost being killed by someone he did business with from the same town Max couldn't blame him.

Max on the other hand would never have those issues because he believed at the next person's expense as well as the fact that his wife known as the beast in the town of plain field since the days of public school.

She had also knocked out her share of bitches who she ever heard or suspected was dealing with Max behind her back so everyone knew better than to give Max a play unless they wanted to deal with her.

This didn't stop Max from doing him but it limited how far he wondered when it came to another woman.

Manman had also been in constant contact with Rah and had turned his life over to Allah and found him deeming more than anything else.

Manman had a wife that was Muslim and they both never missed a Friday at service. At the neighbourhood mosque in five years as of to date.

Manman was planning of pilgrimage trip to the city of Mecca and was not going to miss it for anything.

Manman loved max for saving his life that day and has thanked him ever since and kept him close to him leaving him first in command while he himself played second in command.

Max was the right person to lead and he had never made a wrong move since being in the driver seat.

Manman finish making prayer for the day and dialled max number to check in on how business was.

Max picked up the phone and greeted Manman in a righteous tone even though Max himself was not Muslim.

Max explained that Rah Rah had made sure that the shipment was on time and on point and that business was as usual great.

Manman thanked him and told him to be safe for the night.

Max had not taken any offense to Manman's plight in life put there were niggas out of the crew who did.

Max kept those niggas in check and dealt with the ones who he thought meant harm in the long run how he saw fit.

In Philly Rah and Eisha was at his condo chilling watching the 76 earns play the Knicks. Rah studied Eisha as she walked around the house popping gum and talking shit with her girlfriends on the phone.

Eisha was aware that Rah was staring after and she made certain that she switched her ass extra to turn him on.

Anytime that they were in the house he would always act as if he was busy and she would make sure that she walked around in just her panties on and wet.

Eisha stood 5`5 was a Carmel complexion and weighed 129 BLS soak.

She had a natural gap and stood be legged slightly.

Rah was always joke around that she stood like a bull dog.

Eisha and her girlfriends had a game that they all played with their men that they would see which one of them could get their man to buy them the most expensive give out of the crew.

Eisha already had the latest range rover but was working on something that none of them would be able to top.

Rah was watching Eisha because he could tell that she was up to something but he couldn't place his hands on it.

Eisha place her phone down but made sure the video camera was in the direction of her man and he began taking her clothes off as she walked towards him.

The challenge was who could make their man cum the fastest of course all the nigga worldwide was of and never ran from being recorded fucking their bitch.

Rah Rah dick got harden demand whenever it came to Eisha ass, he watched her wind her body until she was standing in front of the TV blocking the 76 ERS getting their ass beat by the New York knick of all teams.

Rah grabbed at Eisha's waist but she pulled back and told him to come to her.

He sat back and began taking his house shorts off to he was in his birthday suit.

Elisha looked at the camera and then asked Rah what he wanted to do to her.

He stared her in her eyes and told her to get the fuck over to him.

Elisha knew when her Nigga meant business and she that he was ready to fuck her like she wanted to be fucked.

So she slid over to him and he stood up and pushed her down on the couch in a forceful manner.

Each was bent over in the couch with her face facing the video camera of her phone that she left on the counter in the kitchen.

Rah pulled her by the waist to ensure that her ass was poked out towards him and as she was looking into the camera he began to fuck Eisha from the rack slowly.

Eisha moan and groan as if they were in their own promo flick.

Rah Rah kept hitting it from the back while massaging her ass hole slowly.

He then started taking longer strokes and banging Eisha harder on the return.

On the next stroke he made sure that he pulled his dick out before entering her back with a rough thrust, on the seventh time of taking his dick out of her pussy Rah held to her hips tight as he could and entered Eisha's ass hole with all the force that he had in his body.

As soon as he grasped her hips Eisha knew that she was in trouble but couldn't do anything to get out of it fast enough. Eisha was a champ and considered herself a real bitch but taking Rah Rah's entire dick in her ass was something that she couldn't hold.

Every time that she screamed he would pause until she screamed again to don't stop.

Eisha was stuck between a rock and a hard place and all she could do is hope that he came faster than he usually did so that she could end the show and hit the bed and curl up like little baby.

After 20 more minutes of getting her ass blown out Rah Rah stopped and came all over Eisha's ass.

When he was done he stood up allowing video camera to see his full length dick and stared off in the direction of the bathroom to take a shower.

After a few seconds Eisha appeared and stared in camera and shook her head that she lost the challenge.

She slowly stood up and moved over to the phone and mouthed fuck you bitches with a smile before hanging up.

Eisha took her time getting up the stairs to the bathroom where Rah was in the shower.

Once she saw that he knew that she was there she asked him really nigga.

You know that you violated like crazy Rah.

All he said in response was you on the one on the challenge I just gave the viewers the show that they wanted.

Now get in the shower and shut up bitch.

The next morning Rah Rah woke Eisha up early to take her to the dealership as a surprise. When she got up Eisha was still in porn and still had an attitude.

She knew that Rah Rah had a point that she wanted a show and decided to be part of some had gone too far. Eisha wobbled over to the bathroom to brush her teeth and wash her face.

She couldn't stand Rah Rah right now but she knew that business had to go on as a daily bread.

Twenty minutes later they were in Rah Rah Honda accord and on their way to the Benz to dealership on the east side of Philly.

Eisha was not surprised easily and she had two BMW's and a street bike and Rah Rah knew that she didn't like Mercedes Benz's so she couldn't phantom what he was trying to do that would change how she felt towards him right now.

As they rolled up to the dealership they saw few other ballers city and the basketball centre Joel Embed at time dealership looking at the new may Bach coup that was parked outside. Eisha stepped out of the Honda flanking her man who was having a conversation with the 76 ERS centre.

The salesman walked up to Rah Rah and asked him was he ready to be the first owner on the city of brotherly love that owned a man Bach coup.

Rah Rah told the salesman that he wasn't the owner but that his girl Eisha was so give the keys to her and send the pink slip to his condo.

Joel Embed asked Rah Rah if he was doing it big like that to which Rah Rah responded long time now my brother.

Eisha was shock and lost for words, and all of the hatred that she had for Rah Rah disappeared at that moment.

Eisha jumped on Rah Rah and started kissing him and telling him how much that she loved him.

She then stood in front of the carrion took a picture to post on her integral.

Before completing the post Rah Rah reminded her to add to the caption challenge won! Eisha looked at him with the devil eye and smiled.

He said meet me at the house but i guess you can now say that it was all worth it.

Right Baby! !!

City Girls

Juju was strolling through it and stopped on Eisha's page when she saw her post standing in front of a new may Bach coupe.

Juju like the photo and wasted no time calling her girl Eisha to see what the vibe really was.

As soon as she answered the phone Eisha was excited and popping her lips and saying yessss Juju.

Juju stated bitch tell me that that is all you in that photo?

Eisha said you know that nigga knew he was in the dog house after that stunt he pulled last night. I guess he had a makeup plan from the door.

But a bitch Ass hole still on fire fuck what you heard.

Juju explained that prestige had better stepped his game up and do something different then that Range Rover she was riding around in.

Eisha asked Juju if she wanted Rah Rah to holder at Prestigue and tell him come off of that paper.

Juju told Eisha no that she didn't need that, because if he didn't do something soon her Ass hole would be going to another nigga that would real talk bitch.

Eisha said girl I don't know if I can even walk for real.

It took everything out of me to get up and go to the dealership to even get the car today.

Juju told Eisha that she been told her to start giving up that ass and if she would have listened then it wouldn't be so much pain now...

Eisha told Juju to hold on while she linked Jessie into the call seeing that she was calling.

Jessy was the side bitch to nut that was one of the commission's members and had Greensborough no on smash.

When all three of them were on the call Jessie wasted no time congratulating Eisha on the new car.

Juju asked Jessie if she knew what Eisha gave up for that car.

Jessy explained that yes she was on the video call last night and saw her bestie screaming like baby.

Juju laughed saying both are playing out here bitch nigga love fucking a bitch in the ass and mother fuckers better learn how to handle their business and work those ass muscle keeping everything tight and new like.

Juju was an older chick and probably the oldest out of the crew and knew what men loved and needed to say motivated.

Jessy told Juju to shut the hell up those men would do and whatever they would be and be and that no asshole of pussy would keep them from doing anything other than what they wanted to do.

Juju didn't have any issues with men she was Prestigue's bitch but they was not exclusive and he knew that.

She had dealt with many different get money niggas in and around Baltimore and dc and lived from dealing with niggas.

Juju was a little jealous at the fact that Eisha was 25 years old and had be able to bag Rah Rah as her main nigga without having to put as much mileage on her pussy as she did at the same age.

Jessy knew this already and saw where the conversation was going to and changed the topic back to the video the night before.

Jessy started asking Eisha what the hell got into Rah Rah the night before because that nigga was in straight savage mode.

Girl I don't know what the fuck time he was on but shit it paid off in the end and i am about to hit up King of Prussia mall crazy as soon as my asshole up .

Juju began saying that Rah Rah was looking right into the camera.

Girl that nigga was making a movie with you last night I got to get creative to beat that if I am even playing with nut ass said Jessy.

Nut was older around guess age and pampered Jessy with anything that she asked for without her having to go overboard.

But she didn't think that he saw her as may Bach coupe worthy and was racking her head trying to figure out if she would be able to match what the night before.

Juju made a sound telling Jessy and Eisha that Prestigue was coming up the stairs to her house as they were on the phone.

There was no time like the present to put on for her challenge Juju thought.

So before Prestigue walked through the front door she positioned her phone to start her part of the challenge.

So Jessie and Elisha called in and added their other girl friends to see Juju put on for her city.

Second later Prestigue walked through Juju's door and came into view on the video camera.

Prestigue looked as if he hadn't aged at all and everyone knew that Juju liked her niggas young or at least young looking.

When he was in view of the camera Juju was heard telling Prestigue what he was here for to fuck her before running confused go back to his weak ass wife.

Prestigue fucked around on the side but everyone knew that his wife has his weak spot.

He stepped forward and smoked the shit out of Juju.

She shooked her head and said you weak and that bitch is weaker nigga.

This last statement sent Prestigue into rage where he gripped Juju around her neck and started choking her.

Jessy and Eisha as concerned for their friend but knew that she was a gangster bitch and could handle her.

Juju seemed to be really into this and everyone was confused if she was for real or was this role play.

From the look of things Prestigue was dead ass serious.

While she was being choked Juju was stripping out of her clothes. When Prestigue saw this you can tell that he was confused himself because he was really trying to hurt this bitch.

Juju was too slick for her own good and always had an issue with boundaries when it came to him and his wife.

She wanted to be his number one but Prestigue was never leave Monique for a bitch like Juju even though her sex game was serious.

He stepped back from her and admired Juju's body that still sat up as wife 21 years old even though she was in her MD 30's.

Juju looked Prestigue in his eyes and ordered him to back his little dick out.

She knew from experience that he had a complex with his sex game whenever it came to her because of the fact that she was a beast at all times even early in the morning after a crazy night.

Prestigue pulled his pants down to his ankles and told her to get the fuck on her knees and bless the god.

Like an African sound fields Juju did as she was told.

Prestigue rammed his dick in her mouth until Juju was having problems breathing.

He didn't wait and allow her to finesse and suck his dick he wanted to embers her.

For some reason this bitch Juju was acting stupid so he was going to act even stupider. Once he was fully erected he started to smack Juju in her face with his dick and squeeze on her nipples.

Juju seemed to get horny and horny with every move that Prestigue made.

For the next 20 minutes Prestigue dogged fucked Juju until she came and came and came again.

Once they done she asked him that her pussy was better than his wife and this time instead getting upset he told her that she already knew it and left without talking further.

Juju locked her door and laughed in the camera asking her bitches was the performance good enough to top Elisha's.

Everyone was shocked and stuck because they thought for just a moment that Juju was crazy and she couldn't possible had done a better job than she had.

Jessy agreed that Juju may have out done Eisha but the jury was out.

Juju was a real bitch about everything that she did. So she continued their conversation while peeling ass naked as if nothing just took place.

Juju was never aware of the fact that all of the young girls out of the crew were envious of her strength to endure all the bullshit that men brought to the table.

All in all Prestigue was an okay dude but he just was not willing to make Juju his wife. Monique and him had kids together and had been through everything that you can imagine in your mind.

What Juju didn't know was that Prestigue loved her more than he did his wife but he wasn't willing to start all over and build with another woman.

The only leverage that Monique had on Juju was time invested.

Prestigue had Juju living in a high rise condo downtown Baltimore two blocks from the stadium where the Baltimore ravens played.

She was the only black woman living in her building and had a Lexus and Juju could have wanted outside of a baby and a ring on her finger.

Prestigue had no plans on doing anything more than what he had winner been doing for Juju so she was not going to be the winner of the City Girls little game.

The White House

Jimmy's construction was the name of the sheriff son contracting company down in Hilton Head South Carolina.

As promised the sheriff used his power as a city law man and all of the needed supplies were delivered sooner than they would have been under normal circumstances.

The sheriff kept in constant contact with the attorney giving him a day by day break down on the progress that was being made.

Jemmy and his cousin Joey took the work as a special project of sort.

It wasn't every day that they had the opportunity to create and build things that one only would see and read about in a James Bond movie or Dr Book.

So Jimmy and Joey made sure that they dotted all of their i's and crossed all of their t's.

They also understood the importance in the job that they were tasked

The sheriff had sat them down and explained that he didn't know much of the attorney that hired them but he understand that whoever would be living in that estate was wealthy and their safety was important.

He also explained that he has looking forward to furthering his business relationship with the owners of the estate as well as the attorney. So he wanted a great job done on the estate before the family moved in to the home.

Jimmy and Joey had no intentions of disappointing the sheriff or the home owners and also had intentions of doing more business with them as well.

Jimmy and Joey discussed the secret stash room that was to be built into the closet on every floor of the estates which only two.

Joey who was master acetate was confused about how they would be able to install these modifications and still be successful hiding them in the new blue prints that would be filed with the town city hall.

Jimmy explained to Joey that he would just let his father the Sheriff figure that part out while they were only hired to do the work not be the train in hiding the work that was done.

The estate had two master bedroom one on the first floor and another on the second floor.

In the first floor there was a walk in the closets that was the size of the small bedroom.

In the rear of that walk in closets was the window that saw the side of the property all the way to the path was there laid a small back road that could be taken to get to a two lane route that could lead right into the town.

What Jimmy had in mind was to create a door that was four wide and six feet in the length that would be covered by the shoe and bag shelf that could only be accessed once power was running to the door locks.

Actually power would be the dim light switch that was on the outside of the closet door in the master bedroom.

Once the cousins made the property modification to this room. Jimmy came up with other things that he was certain that the home owners would love.

Jimmy installed a biometric system that would have to be programmed by the people that would be utilizing this room.

If the biometric of the person enter the room was not inputted into the system the room would immediately be turned into a labour death trap and anyone inside of the room would be cut to pieces in matter of seconds.

Inside of the room each wall would have gated shelf displaying side arms on one side and long guns on the other side.

The rear of the room would be equipped with the latest in monitor screens and computers with the latest software that would allow the owners to see not just the entire inside of the house but also the Sid roads and major road in the town that lead to property.

This would be after programmed the computer tap into the Coty camera system with the help of the sheriff.

The gated shelf would be actually sitting floating on top of biometric thumb's that would hold extra clips extended clips and unlimited amount of ammunition for the weapons of the owners had in their inventory already.

Once this room was completed in the middle of the walk in the closet to help in covering the existence of this secret panic room.

Afterwards the contractors had their worker design a master bathroom that was more like a bathroom that you would be in a modern day SPA in then in a bathroom. In a house that sat in the middle of a country hick town like Hilton Head South Carolina

Once the first floor master bedrooms was completed Jimmy and Joey did the walk through virtual video and sent it to the Sheriff who in return gave it the thumb up and sent it to the attorney who sent the video to Nunu in the Bahamas for the Okay.

With an hour of completing this video the Sherriff was given order that house owner loved the design and wanted the exact same master bedroom layout for the bedroom upstairs.

In the living room which was converted on the blue prints as being a grand living room.

The contractors created a wall that the 85 inch television would sit on but would also be flipped inside of the wall to make the wall paper Palin until someone in the living room wanted to watch TV.

Instead of toing and groove hard wood floors the contractors install a light wood texture that also was heated where the ventilation system would only be used for cool air and not both heat and cold air like normal systems were used for.

The kitchen was designed to look like a kith from one of the home cooking new work shows with marble counterbid floor throughout the kitchen and sit in dinner room.

As a toss in the cousins created secret draws in plain sight that were underneath the counters where the home owners could also hide guns and weapons of their choice.

Never knew when trouble would strike.

In the grand living in the opposite corner of where the twirl steps was situated there was an elevator shelf and see through elevator created that gave the home owners the options of taking the stairs or elevator to the second floor.

It was also designed so that the people in the elevator could see the entire living room and the floor while being protected because the glasses used was fully bullet proof glass.

Once the first floor was fully completed the cousin had two weeks left to complete the second floor which they realized that they would be finish sooner because while their workers was finishing up the bottom level the cousin themselves has stared the upstairs.

The land scrapping company that they hired to do the outside work was almost completed.

They had a high school friend that they grew up with who was just as good as them who had his own company and man the work that he did on the outside and out strikes of the estate was wonderful.

On each side of the grass yard there were no houses designed that would be lowered into the ground and lead to underground tunnels that would allow the dogs to underground assess to the entire estate at their leaser once. They were lowered into the ground.

From the security stand point this elements of surprise could change the outcome of a home envision.

Before the move in date the attorney Jerry Solves ousted the town of Hilton Head to check in on things and to bring the extra money for finishing the job early and on time. He drove from New York and was having brunch with the Sheriff before both of them going out to the estate to inspect things.

By this time the cousins and the land scupper were complete and just working on all of the finishing touches throughout the entire property.

The land scuppers may have out done the contacts with is work to the outside and out skirts of the land.

There has not way any one would ever be able to approach the property with someone being able to see and know who was coming their way with two miles of time to spare to prepare for whatever the incoming was.

In the front of the property was a circular drive way with the five cars garage off to the side of the house and a Guess house completed with 2700 square feet in the rear of the estate where company and any other family members could stay without disturbing the inside of the house.

In the rear attached to the estate was a pool that could be converted to an outside and or indoor pool with capabilities of turning into a warm pool or a hot cool, There was also a saner in the ground with an outdoor entertaining area and massage room for the home owners and visitors.

When the Sheriff and the lawyer pulled up to the front gate they had to wait a few seconds to be buzzed through the gate by scan one on the other end of the intercom. There was a bell or button to press to alert the home owners but a sensor that acted as a silent alarm and alerted the owners of someone being at the gate awaiting entrance of the estate.

The lawyer was a passenger inside of the Sheriff city official truck and was seen checking things off a list as they even approached the gate and property of the in all these details because he was really curious about who it was stay in of the details involving this house.

Once inside of the estate the contractors and the land scupper was awaiting for them. The land scupper was the first to speak to the lawyer and explaining the designs and lay outs.

One thing that caught the lawyer's eye was the twin dogs' house on the land scupper wanted to answer this and was actually waiting for that exact question.

The Sheriff and Mr. Slovis exited the car to inspect the dog houses.

As soon as they walked into the one dog house the Sheriff and Mr. Slovis notice movement and that they were descending underground.

When they finally stopped the landscaper exited the dog house and display that they were actually in a human size tunnel.

The sheriff was impressed but the lawyer wasn't.

It wasn't that he didn't like it. It was too good; he realized that everyone actually got the point that the people who would be living in this home were not the average family.

The land scupper instructed Mr. Slovis to follow him and they walked to the opposite side of the tunnel and got into another dog house to which then he raised and came up in the back yard of the estate.

Only when Mr. Slovis saw the pack of the property did he show any signs that he liked what he was seeing. The land scarper didn't care he was confined in his work and knew that at the end everyone would appreciate the extra piece added to his order.

When they opened the door to the dog house the cousins took over and began to show off the work that they completed with the back yard and SPA like saner room and so on.

They all then walked to the further fence and that was when joey picked the rock and toasted it at the gate.

The fence gave off an electric shock like sign which let the lawyer know that once activated no one that was unwanted would be able to scale the fence to gain entry to the property.

As he was been shown the entire property features the Sheriff became aware that the lawyer Mr. Slovis was recording everything inside of his phone.

The sheriff already knew what the video was for. He guessed the owners wanted a total look at everything before officially moving in case there were extras that they wanted included beforehand.

The cousins then took Mr. Slovis into the estate from really impressed.

The back entrance was just as good as the grand entrance and from the rear you could see the elevator and circular stair case that really showed off excellent place in the estate.

The first room that was toured was the kitchen where the contractors showed off the secret compartments that were under each cabinet.

When the lamer videoed this he asked what was the purpose for this and the cousins explained.

Upon the explanation the attorney Mr. Slovis realized that it made sense and that Nunu would appreciate this little extra detail.

When they got into the master bedroom that was when Mr. Slovis became truly impressed by the work that was put into this estate.

When they purchased the places everything seemed dated like the 1950's.

Jimmy took the lead in the master bedroom on the first floor.

He walked Mr. Slovis through showing him that the TV would be able to watch the cable and also display the cameras throughout the entire property.

He then walked him in to the walk in closet and began showing them the layout.

After this he displayed the secret room and showed Mr. Slovis the biometric locking system and how the room would work.

Joey explained what each cabinet would hold and also how to access the room without getting locked in.

The stash room as designed so that even if someone gained entry that they would get locked in or murdered by the laser beams that would security pop out if your bio metrics was not programed to the security system.

Mr. Slovis made certain that he proceed this and Joey explaining this so that Nunu, China, King and Issiah would understand the importance of this room.

Afterwards Jimmy explained the upstairs master bathroom and bedroom was the exact same after the tour of the grand living room Mr. Slovis explained that he wanted to see the front of the estate.

Joey and the land scupper took over from this point.

Joey activated a drone and gave Mr. Slovis the screen that could show what the drone was viewing and recording.

Mr. Slovis saw the entire estate and the roads leading to the estate and into town from the screen.

At each path leading to and from Joey clicked and showed the hidden camera view that the home owners would be able to see from inside of the house.

The land scupper began to inform Mr. Slovis that each road and path leading to and from the estate was equipped with hidden motion sensors that would allow the owners to know and see who was heading their way five miles before getting to the front gate. He then explained that gave the owners enough time to active their security system including the dogs being let loose and getting to the stash room on both floors.

Jimmy then explained that each in down was equipped with a mental gate that would come down and cut off all access to the estate and lock the owners inside and keep intruders out.

Lastly Jimmy got into the tunnel under the house that lead to the lake in the rear of the estate with a speed goat in the bat cave them access to five direction where they can escape danger.

Mr. Slovis nodded his head in the direction of the contractors and there and land scupper while walking to the Sheriff truck to retrieve the cache of money.

The then began to send all of the video footage to Nunu for viewer and told them that he would know before the end of the day if there was any extra that they may need to add. Jimmy told Joey to contact the cleaners in the meantime and to make arrangements to start prepping the estate within the hour while the attorney was at the Sheriff office discussing possible investment in the town of Hilton Head Nunu text Mr. Slovis giving him the thumbs up and add that she wanted to win do payment dogs ordered on the day of move in.

When Mr. Slovis asked what that exact day would be Nunu text back in 48 hours which was too days from now.

Mr. Slovis expressed to the Sheriff that he would be meeting the owners in two days which the sheriff stated he was okay with that.

Home Sweet Home

It was Sunday afternoon and China had just finish preparing ox- tail with white rice and beans for dinner.

Everyone was at the table including Issiah who had been sad of lately because the fact everyone seemed to had been doing their own thing and showing him no attention.

What Issiah didn't know was that everyone was preparing to return to a world that he didn't even know existed.

Nunu completed setting the table and China started serving the food.

Nunu became aware that King couldn't keep his eyes off of China's little tight ass and made a mental note that she would have to have a talk with him about controlling his emotions and eye sight.

China knew that king had the vipers bad for her and she found it to be so cute.

What she didn't understand was in the United States showing your feelings for significant other like that could be used to exploit you and to attack you.

Nunu made a second mental note to speak to China about this when they were alone. China was a killer and a same.

China may have been a killer and a bad bitch but none of that would make a difference and play a role in keeping her alive in the United States in the underworld.

Nunu had come across some of the realest and pretties woman in her life time and most of them were dead or in jail because they relied on their looks instead their skills. Nunu knew that they would be tested and challenged and this is what she wanted to speak with everyone about.

Unity and preparing was key in them being able not to just survive in United States but take back what was rightfully theirs.

As they eat dinner Issiah watched his mother's brain thinking and wondered what was on her mind lately.

King sat across from him having eyeing who was his great grandfather's girlfriend and House made.

Right in the middle of eating dinner Nunu announced that they would be leaving for States in two days.

Meaning on Wednesday morning they were leaving the Bahamas.

Nunu also explained that after dinner they would have a family meeting and everyone including Issiah was to be present.

King understood the purpose of the meeting he hadn't been in the states since being eight years old but from keeping in contact with Vincent. He knew that there were lot of things that here not the same as her remember.

China didn't think that they needed a whole lot of talking because they were moving but she would find out just how wrong she was.

When they were done with dinner Nunu summoned a clean-up lady from the resort and ordered everyone into Mr Matthews's old room.

She took this a safe haven because Mr Matthews's room was sound proof and away from everything else.

When they were finally situated in Mr Matthew's old bedroom Nunu turned to Issiah and asked him if he wanted to stay or go to his room to play.

She really didn't see and surprise of staying him at only eight years old what could he have added to the meeting.

To everyone's surprise Issiah spoke in a manner in which Nunu had never heard her baby speak.

Issiah said "mommy I am not a baby and I got to prepare to protect you and King so hiding information from me can only be harmful.

King responded by telling his little brother that he didn't need help and he would be okay.

Issiah answered telling him that it was better that they teach him how to be a gangster then trying to hide the life from him knowing that he would still be affected by what they did.

To that point Nunu realized that Issiah was more deadly than anyone room because for him to make statement that he just made only meant that.

He had been holding back playing pussy and watching.

This was an attribute that even Monster lacked but one that key is in survival and decision making.

Nunu shrugged her shoulder and looked a China and King and then began talking about what was going on.

King slouched in the single love seat that he was seated in and allowed his step mother the floor.

They had plenty family meeting but he knew that this one was going to be different.

Nunu started by explaining that the estate that they would be living in was finally completed with the modification and ready for them to move in.

She put on the 85 inch TV on the wall and started to watch the video footage. Mr. Slovis had sent her displaying the estate and all of the features that the property was but fitted it.

China was in awe seeing the estate and all of the features she had only seen things like that on a movie.

Life in the West Indies was simple and law enforcement only disturbed the poor.

China came from money and since being Mr Matthew's young lady was used to being around the wealthiest of the Bahamas Island.

King was quite because he was listening but he also knew that he was going to be good whatever their situation was.

On the contrary to his elder brother Issiah was listening that his mother was saying there was never a mention of where he would fit in the estate where he would learn how to use a gun and practice, discipline and preparation.

China asked a question that Issiah was thinking in his head. Where are we going to practice and use for a range. Nunu directed their attention to what look like trailer that sat off to the right of the estate.

Once she showed the trailer she then flicked the remote and the screen began to show the inside of the trailer which was an at home gun range. That allowed its owners to practice firing a gun without the neighbour even hearing shots being fired.

After being shown this Issiah decided to finally speak.

Excuse me can I say something is what he said that more everyone in the room listen to the next words that came out of his mouth.

All of this is great and I cannot wait to live in American sand experience life there but I haven't seen one thing or place where I fit in at.

You are showing all of this in the trailer was not a booth that was out fitted for me at eight years old.

I am part of this family and will be part of this organization wasn't it my father and great grandsons who created and ran this commission that everyone talks about to this day?

Then I think a few things need to be changed that includes me.

King just smiled listening to his brother; He always knew that Issiah was different and starting to show just how different he was.

King reminded what he was doing at the age of eight years old and that was playing video games with his right hand man Vincent.

Issiah on the other hand did nothing but read write and study which meant that she was optical thinker something that king attempted to become but always feel short of being.

King looked at Nunu and asked her to please make the call and make sure that they fix one of the firing booths for Issiah's personal use.

Just as King asked of her Nunu texted that message to the lawyer Mr. Slovis who texted back that it would be done at the end of the day.

Cha was the next person up to ask question. Why was the estate located in South Carolina but the pull of the commission money cities were located more up north?

King chimed in for the answer.

The commission wouldn't be able to move strategically in most major cities.

The south gave them room for errors without the concern of all the different law enforcement braches breathing down their throats.

Nunu was impressed by King's answer and left the response at that. King went on to explain to Nunu and China that he had taken care of the Julius issue that he knew bothered Nunu for the last ten years.

China stared at King with lust in her eyes seeing how he took control of certain matters like a grown man.

Issiah watched China and King Interaction even though their communication was non-viral.

Issiah directed his comment to China and asked her if she thought that the family meeting was the appropriate setting for displaying emotions?

Nunu and king both were shocked at Issiah's comment to the fact that his mother told him to watch his mouth.

China interrupted her and explained to everyone that Issiah was 110% correct and she really needed to watch herself.

Mommy I tired of all treating me like a little boy. I don't know that all are blind but I am smarter then everyone in this room and probably better then everyone in this room at most of the things that all do on a day to day basis.

Nunu then went into breaking things down in business and the role that she expected everyone top play within the commission.

she explained that she should expect a lot of blow back in them just coming back to the United States and being able to gain the chairman position that allow her to control the entries commission.

Nunu then explained that he and King would share this role in that would focus on the legitimate and part of thing and leaving the grunt work to King.

This was something that she knew King would love because he wanted his shot at the street life.

Nunu had lived life in the underworld and knew of the resistance that he would face.

She wanted to be there through it all but wanted to legitimize the family for good knowing that no Illegal organization last forever.

Nunu then began to explain that monster last book that he published before dying "To kill a monster" had needed close to 5 million dollars in sales.

She also explained that the spot light may shine on them at some point and time because of the fact that King and Issiah was the son's and there to William Roebuck Legacy.

This was the first that China ever heard that Monster was actually publically known as William Roe beck the author.

In fact China had read one of his books before and never put two and two together until today.

Nunu then explain that she was having to dubbed meant dog purchased to roam the property inside and out and turned the TV to display the dog houses and the tunnels. China took this opportunity to ask Nunu was there any direct threats that she was expecting and if not why did they need an estate with all security but none being live people.

Again Issiah was the first one to answer this question.

Turning his body to face China directly Issiah explained that the more people that had access to them the more people had to key their life.

Technology was always a better security factor than live bodies.

Nunu knew that her son brain thought like this and that he was aware of the life style that they lived even though the Bahamas they was considered normal people that were just wealthy folks.

Kings asked if they were taking much with them to which Nunu explained that they were only to take the necessary valuables because everything else would be order brand new for the brand new start once they got there.

Nunu then explained to everyone that starting today and up to them leaving that they would sit down and order furniture. Clothing, cars and all so that as they get their things would start being delivered to the house.

King turned and asked China would they be sharing the same room or living in different parts of the mansion.

China looked at Nunu and waited for a response.

Nunu looked at the baby Issiah and said that this is up to all of you and grown as adults Isn't that right baby.

Issiah shrugged his shoulder and asked where the money was at and smiled.

This was the first time that everyone notices Issiah coming out of his shell. If he didn't talk everyone caged in nerdy kid.

Nunu gave everyone the address to the estate and the resort business credit card information and told them to order whatever they wanted to be delivering to the house starting Wednesday morning.

She then asked China so stay behind so she could have a private word with her after the meeting was over. Once everyone else was gone Nunu turned to China and asked her did she really still to come to America with them.

China approached Nunu and so close that from a far you would have thought that the two women were kissing and asked Nunu what was the issue with her.

If she was upset because King was fucking her and in love with her good pussy.

Nunu laughed and stepped back while telling him a that there has no room for here in the world that she was about to entered and she just need to know that she had her back and she was prepared.

China stated to Nunu that she was slow or stupid and knew that there would be many things that she was new and would have to get use to but that she would not be the cause of the down fall if a down fall came about.

Nunu responded simply saying that she he hopes not.

By the end of that night Nunu was going through the credit cards and saw that between everyone they had already shared close to so, good worth of furniture and clothes and toys for their new place.

Most mothers would have been upset at this but wasn't an option and the amount spent only made Nunu understand that after ten years that she was finally returning to the life that she so much yarned for.

That Monday before leaving Nunu asked Nunu to have her sister and not come down to the resort for a meeting. Jasmine was two years older than China and looked as if they came from totally separate parents. Aretha was 52 years old but could pass for 29 on any given day.

She wanted to leave the resort under their control as well as placed their name on the corporation so that they would be able to officially handle the company's business.

Transaction if the event raised.

Both mother and daughter were in shock but accepted the role and asked Nunu why was she leaving Bahamas?

Nunu explained that they were needed in to run a more important company but would always have Bahamas as a second home away from home.

Jasmine and Aretha told Nunu that they would do as she asked as long as she stayed in touched and allowed them to visit the states from time to time.

Nunu explained that she would do something better. She pulled up the photos of the estate in Hilton Head and dedicated the Guess house to Aretha and Jasmine since China would be staying with them also.

Before Nunu knew it was Tuesday after noon and Mr. Slovis and Guess were on the phone with her telling her the nick the pilot would be at the private airport waiting for them at 6am the next morning.

Nunu asked to prepare a video conference with the members of the commission for Wednesday afternoon and for her and her family on the absence of Monster.

After this call Nunu check the resort credit card statement and saw that 90, 000 of charges had resent to close 150, 00. She didn't question China, King or Issiah because she herself had ordered some expensive things for her return as well.

At 5 am the next morning Nunu awoke to a bunch of commotion to find King, Issiah and China banging on her door to tell her that they would be late for their flight if she didn't come on.

Nunu jumped up and opens her room door to explain that yes they may have been running late. But they needed to get use to pilots waiting on them back on calls.

Two hours later they was in a G7 Jet circling the island to get one more look at the paradise before heading in the direction of the estate where reality would change for each of them for good.

New Beginnings

Bino and Dot were conversation on what they thought the commission would be like with Nunu sitting in the chairman seat.

They knew that change would come soon because it was obvious before of the death of the Old Man that Guess wasn't the reason to take them into the new beginners of sharing power with all of the different streets. Crews that were on the rise in the cities that the commission controlled.

Business in Charlotte and Raleigh North Carolina was Okay but had seen better times.

Bingo was happily married and running two separate businesses one a clothing line by the name of NIT and seconds a music recording studio.

Dot on the other hand was promoting parties and stated a record label trying to clean some of the street in the music bunnies.

One thing that both of them could agree on was that if Nunu took control of the commission Prestigue would become a problem and that they would kill him themselves before. They allow Nunu to have to concern herself with the bull shit that the brought to the table.

Everyone knew that the only reason that monster never murdered Prestigue was because of the guidance and leadership installed him by the Old Man.

What everyone knew was that with King at her side and after all that they went through that decision would be made differently.

Just how differently was something that they would find out?

Get man sat in his 850 BMW coupe on the phone with Shawn discussing moving some of the stocked up product that he had from Colombia down to Charleston where he had things in the smash.

Lately heroin been slow in the metro at the cause of so many other crews tapping into the market and Guess not making the call to eliminate the competition.

Shawn asked get man if he had gotten the memo about the video meeting that they were having at 6:00pm that day.

Get man explained that he did and wondered what the meeting was about because Guess liked to meet in person and never on a screen where he could be recorded and couldn't see everyone's reaction.

Shawn explained that it probably wasn't anything that important so Guess didn't mind meeting that way.

But got more from Guess directly that Nunu at after that day and Nut was cool with that.

He had great relationship with Ugod who was monster's brother and knew that after the death of Mr. Matthews those things would change within the organization.

What Nut didn't know was how would everyone else's take the change and would those changes affect his bottom line.

Ugod waited for this day to come for ten years now. He maintains a prominent role within the organization as the chief straight when dealing with opposition, but had slowdown drastically because Guess was a laid back type leader.

He was at the estate in Hilton Head Reviewing the security measures. That was put in place for his Nephews and Nunu return to the states.

He was really impressed by the work competed by the country boys and even asked to be but in contact with them for future work that the commission may need moving forward.

Ugod had gotten the contact information of the contractors as well as the Sheriff of the town of Hilton Head from Mr. Slovis and also asked to arrange a meet and greet since he would probably be moving to the same town to be close to the family.

Manman was ready to see what Nunu had in store for the family. He appreciated the low key leadership of guess, but was well aware that the commission would soon face major opposition from numerous faction if they didn't began to clean the underworld up pretty soon.

Max was current leader of his New Jersey team but if and when Nunu took control Manman was prepared to jump back into the driver seat.

When this was discussed with Max he had understanding and typically okay with being bore in and Manman batman as long as the family eat food, was that all he cared about.

Over in Maryland Pristgue also gotten world at the possible change in leadership and everyone knew that at the thought that he again was looked over for the Chairman seat even though he had been one of the first team member of the commission.

He delivered that woman was not strong enough to lead an organization like the commission regardless of how many bodies that she had under her belt and he also made the mental note to make sure that he voiced this option in the event that Nunu took control of things.

Prestige had over 25 million dollars in his stash and a strong team that was killing niggas weekly in Baltimore. In fact he was the only commission member whose monthly income had risen since the death of Monster. So Prestige had even completed taking the commission over by the force and had these discussions with his crew member from time to time.

He believed that Guess was weak and that with the Old Man good the power that bathes leadership had would dry up.

What prestige never took into play were the power of King and the brain of the eight year old son Issiah.

Rah Rah had always stayed close to Nunu and Guess as well as the Old man Mr Matthews.

Mr Matthews would always tell him that when he was dead that he was certain that Nunu would return to the states with a vengeance and he wanted Rah Rah to make sure that he stayed loyal to her regardless of what he may have thought about her personally.

Rah Rah always had a crush on Nunu and everyone knew that he took it personally when she agreed to be monster official side bitch and even live with him and Lisa as couple.

Nunu was too much for Rah Rah to handle and men always loved to bite off more than they could chew in life.

Their flight landed safely close to 9:15 am and a convey of range rovers carried them to their new house in the out skirts of Hilton Head South Carolina.

As they flew Nunu stared off the gets down and be with monster before he was murdered.

There was a certain weight that she carried believing that it was her fault that he was murdered.

She should have never crossed the business line with Julius and she had never used her body as tool in the filed outside of Julius before and after the event.

She knew that King and JJ should have locked in that panic room and that she should have been in the house with Lisa and Monster defending their position and dying with them if it comes to that.

China as a woman knew that Nunu held this blame within and when they once discussed it explained that that type of emotion being bottled up would kill her if she didn't deal with it.

As they drove through the town of Hilton Head Issiah kept quiet seeing that his mother was in deep thought.

He knew that only thoughts of his father could be on her mind whenever he saw her in that zone.

He wondered what his father was like and if he favored him in looks and ways such as walks and talk.

He saw pictures of him but never thought they he looked much like him contrary to what everyone else said about the two of them.

When they arrived at the estate Ugod was present along with the Sheriff Mr Slovis and the contractor's cousins. Ugod had personally vetted the two Mexican made that were actually gift from the cartel and lure ready to defend any opposition that made a run at the estate.

Upon seeing his uncle Ugod King jumped out of the back of the truck and ran up to his uncle and began throwing jabs at him like he used to see his father do whenever they saw each other.

The Sheriff was smitten by Nunu's beauty and explained that it was nothing to big he appreciated the business relationship with the attorney and looked forward to doing more business with her as well.

As this was taking place Ugod brought to the crowd two female dubbed meant pincher dogs that were small and seemed too had just been born within the last few weeks. Issiah ran to his uncle who he only ever met via video camera and took the two dogs into his arms and began betting them.

The rest of the crowd began to make their way towards the entrance of the house.

When Nunu looked back she saw her baby Issiah playing with the two dogs and saw the innocent side of him and knew that he was growing into a monster just like he father.

Most mothers would have been terrified at this thought but deep in her heart Nunu knew that there was not better life for Issiah but the life of a gangster.

They entered the estate and were floored by the grand foyer and how it opened up to anyone that entered the house.

Being born and raised in the Bahamas China had never seen a property with an elevator in the living room just to get them to second floor of the house.

Nunu who was use to luxury was impressed but cared more about security features versus all of the game and glory.

After what happened to Lisa and monster she would never again make available so easy to them ever again.

The first thing that Nunu asked to be shown was the home office and the stash room. These two places where crucial to everyone in the house.

The cousins Joey and Jimmy gladly lead family into the bottom floor master bedroom and through the walk in closet to the safe pains room.

Joey loved explaining the laser detection that was attached to the families' biometric make up and explained that they would each have to report to an outside company so that they make up so that they make up could and installed.

China asked again 618 clarifications on why this was needed and that was when Joey decided to give them an example.

He ordered everyone out of the room and turned the lights off before activating the lasers.

When the lights were out the lasers moving throughout the room could be seen and that was when Joey took an orange and through it into the laser and watched at the orange was sliced into pieces.

He turns the lasers off and the lights back on and explained that the same thing would occur to anyone who accessed this room if their makeup was not programed into the main frame of the security room.

Issiah started at Joey and asked him if there was a separate power source controlling the flow of power to this room.

Joey didn't expect that question from an eight year old boy but he answered it nevertheless.

He explained that the power controlling the room was on a separate generator.

Issiah asked how long would it take for them to modify the power source to be from solar panels that would be on the roof of the house. Before he was finished with the statement Joey realized just how good of an idea that was.

Using solar panels as a source of power that are positioned on the roof of the house mean there would never be anyway that anyone could disturb the current.

Joey answered Issiah as if he was an adult and told him those modification could be taken care of in a matter of hours.

Issiah gave Joey a look that was understood as get it done then.

Watching this conversation of non-verbal tactics was weird from Nunu 's stand point but she had reached the point where she understood Issiah was King's brother and monsters baby.

The laser trick was cool but that was if a stranger got inside of the room.

Issiah thoughts were what if that same stranger made sure that they didn't access the room before storming the house.

King wasn't surprised at Issiah's break through at an early age because even though he wasn't into the life style when he was eight if Lisa and monster groomed him he would have been. Issiah was not groomed but he yearned to be special in any and all that he touched and took part in.

As they were leaving out of the master bedroom Issiah asked Joey if he thought it would be a good idea if they also ran the elevator power to the solar panels while they were up there making the modification for the room.

Issiah asked this question in an Arthurian style which was more likely informing Joey what he wanted him to do rather than suggesting.

The family was escorted to the rear of the property where they were shown the SPA like massage and saunter rooms the indoor and outdoor pools and more.

Afterwards the land scupper began explaining all the work and features that he and his team put in China stood next to him because she had a difficult time understanding what he was saying due to him having a deep hearty Southern Accent.

Once the grand tour was completed Nunu and China took off to speak with the Sheriff and Mr. Slims in the home office what was nothing short of a special OPS room that the United States military used when preparing for war.

While this was taking place the maid and the chiefs were assisting in the delivery of clothes furniture and other things that had been ordered by everyone and were starting to arrive on that day.

Nunu wasted no time breaking ice with the Sheriff because she knew the progress that Mr. Slims had made in his own relationship.

She explained that she would initially start off investing 10% of their profit into the town of Hilton Head and another 10% of her own money in any personal business owned by the Sheriff and his family.

The Sheriff was not disappointed and sat quiet until he was asked to speak.

Even though he was the law in that town he knew when he was not the person who controlled things and had the power.

Nunu asked him was he okay with the initial arrangement with the understanding that the percentage could only go upwards as long as they were property protected and that their businesses that were outside of the state of South Carolina thrived forward.

The Sheriff explained that his arrangements were fine and that he would personally make sure that Nunu and her family were the first ones informed in any law enforcement looking threat way or any unusually faces coming into the town unannounced.

The meeting with the Sheriff and Mr. Slovis took a little over an hour and when they exited the home office Nunu was shocked to see that Issiah had the land scupper and Joey making all of the arrangements that were discussed during their tour.

While his uncle Ugod stood guard backing his every move.

Nunu felt so good to see monsters direct family bonding with Issiah it was all about the life that she didn't want him taking part in.

In the mean while King was in the master bedroom with China talking to Vincent making arrangements to slide through charlotte with the next two days or so.

Nunu text Guess and asked if the meeting was set up and was everyone was ready and informed.

As everyone else toured the house Nunu sat in the chair in the office and told herself that she kneed to find the strength that you allow her to take back what was rightfully hers.

What many people don't know about monster's reign to power was that Nunu and Lisa murdered a lot of people across the United States.

That stood in the way of monster being able to create and maintain the commission.

Yes all of the members got busy but all of the key murders were done by Lisa's and Nunu's hand.

The only people who knew this was Rah Rah and the Old man Mr. Matthews.

The movers and the maids were still moving things into the house.

The dogs were playing in the front yard with Issiah and Ugod and Nunu was staring at her platinum pate watch seeing that it was almost 6.00 pm and that she would be meeting with the commission to tell them the great news. That she was back in taking the chairman's seat with monster's son King.

At ten minutes before the meeting Guess and Nunu were on the phone discussing details of the personalities each member and the growth that everyone was made within their own citied they control.

While this discussion was taking place King walked in and asked his mother if he was late.

Seeing that video screen was blank is known that he wasn't late at all.

Guess informed Nunu that is appeared that everyone was in place and that it was time to start the meeting. Two minutes later Nunu was staring at some of the commission members that she hadn't seen in close to a decade.

Nut seemed to not have aged one bit. While get man and Shawn looked like life was winning the battle against them, but Nunu knew that most men in the south aged bad. Out the corner of her eye Nunu felt as if prestige had a certain smirk on his face that defied her being back in the states.

This was a factor that King also notice but sat quite while the meeting began.

What King Nunu knew was that Issiah was in the safe room watching the video feed from the camera in the home office staring into the eyes of each member of the commission while denying them the ability to even know of his presence.

Guess the meeting by informing everyone that Nunu was formally back and would be taking an active role in the organizations day to day activities.

Prestige asked Guess to please explain this better.

To which King stepped in front of the desk that Nunu sat behind and said allow me to be more helpful big bro.

My step mother and I will be replacing Guess and sharing the chairman seat from this point forward.

Guess will remain the sole controller of the state of tenses.

Is that better for anyone who doesn't understand what is taking place.

For all of all who don't know who I am I am monster first son and her to his thrown. Prestige showed poised and asked King why all of the other member were looked over for this position first.

King responded with a straight forward sentence because hall showed weakness in the eyes of adversity.

At that point Nunu realized that were already taking a bad turn and took back control of the conversation.

As we move forward we can all speak separately about how you may feel about being looked over and that complaint will be properly addressed.

As of right now the next steps and moves is what I would like to contrite on.

Guess turned the meeting over to Rah Rah because at this time he controlled the Afghani connect and had furthered his relationship with the Mexican cartels as well.

Rah Rah explained that at the current time the flow was great but that they were not moving the work as fast as they were receiving the work.

King asked why this was so.

Max Manman spoke up.

Manman knew king personally and knew that King would respect his opinion and not give a bunch of punch back.

King smiled seeing Manxman began to speak and also said hello Uncle Manxman a long time no see you?

Manxman introduced Max and they both began to explain about all of the new street crews that had been popping up all over and where somewhat problematic in each city. They came with their own connect and everything.

King crack a big smiled and listened max explained for the next twenty minutes what he fetches was the issue.

Prestigue saw that king had calmed down and was paying attention to Max speak. So he took advantage of then and started explaining that Baltimore there had been an uprising of the black guerrilla family which was a gang that had their own connect and was also killing competition.

King stopped listening to Max and asked Prestigue was he sacred.

When Prestigue answered no he then asked him why not none of them niggas dead.

King despised Prestigue and knew that their relationship would never last or be a good one.

King then asked Prestigue to wait in two to speak because obviously Max wasn't done. King took to Manxman and Max because of the fact him remembered what his father thought of Manman and the loyalty that Max showed him as a boss.

Prestigue had fire in his eyes but received a text from Guess telling him to calm down and relax.

King was different than his father and he lacked in patience but Guess believed that he would come around.

After Max was done King sat in deep thought and explained that he would be visiting every city that the commission had a strong hold in and would discuss the plan.

Nunu asked is there any availability for taking on new accounts.

Just like monster she considered their customers as actual business.

Guess chimed in and explained what he felt comfortable knowing that the Old Man was in bad health cursing and not looking for new faces believing that the storm would pass over.

Nunu told each member that her and King would be crises crossing the cities so he would seeing some them and she would be seeing the others and then they would complete notes and call a second meeting and lay out the plan.

Max asked did this mean that they should prepare for a war; king answered and told them that the commissions don't do to war or battlers.

The meeting was ended purposely because Nunu wanted keep down the rift between her son and her under lining. King stood staring at the blank screen with death in his eyes.

He told Nunu that he felt as though niggas were playing with the organization that his father died building.

She told him to calm down and that in due time things would shape out.

Out of nowhere Issiah appeared at the office door and told the both of them that if they didn't get rid of Prestigue that he would be their down fall.

King looked at Nunu and walked out of office.

Nunu knew that look to well and hadn't seen it since monster was alive.

She was happy to be home but not so happy to jump right back into the underworld. She knew that it was a cold world and from the looks of things it was about to get much colder.

The Take Over

The lamina trucked swerved through traffic looking like a great white shark on land as it passed other drivers.

China sat in the driver seat manoeuvring the so while King sat quiet in deep thought as they drove to Charoellet NC.

North the sign that they were looking for was north Tryon exit which was two exits away.

King had discussed with Nunu what he had in mind to swift take care the major issues that the commission were dealing with.

What he didn't know ahead of time was if he would be able to pull it off, but he would find out real soon.

China loved seeing King in this mode and even though she had been the aggressor every time that they fucked she knew that it was only a matter of time before he blew her walls out.

Ten minutes later they were pulling into an apartment complex where China saw a bunch of men and women in the far end all wearing some clothes that had red or shoes or red in it and blasting loud music from a well-known North Carolina rapper by the name of be baby.

As the limbo truck pulled up China saw that there was a moment of tense before Vincent stepped out of one of the apartment and told everyone to relax.

King was wearing a vase sweat suit with a pair of Dior runners with a gold pate watch and an iced out rope chain around his neck.

Vincent ran up to him as if they were little boys in the park who hadn't seen each other in a week or so.

The different was they were grown men who grew up around to killers and dealers and hadn't seen each other in a decade or so.

King stepped back to look a Vincent before they started shadow boxing and sparring with each other.

This was something that they would do for fun whenever they were in the house by themselves and Vincent mother and King's mother was out running errandsetc.

China sat with the limbo truck door crack and her hand on a beret nine mille meters.

It was a comebacker pistol that Nunu gave her before they left and ordered her to protect King with her life and that was exactly what China expected to do at all the times.

From the corner of her eyes China felt and saw the presence of someone but was too late on her reaction before turning and seeing to bitches that looked like each other point guns at harassing her was she up to...

Vincent added in the direction of the car and when King looked back and stated to Vincent that China was born and raised in Bahamas and had a lot to learn.

The twins lowered their guns and told China to relax and join them it was all love where she was at.

Only when King told her it was cool did China relax and take her hand off of her gun. She exited the truck and stood right next to her man.

Vincent invited everyone into the last apartment that he came out of and those all headed inside.

Stepping inside of the apartment looked like you were stepping inside of in a suite at the hotel.

Vincent had the apartment decked out in the latest of furniture and TV's on the walls. He explained that the apartment was his and baby mothers and the twins lived in the extra bedroom upstairs.

King was lost at how his best friend could have control of a thousand gang members but was living in the projects in the inner city of charlotte.

He made a mental note that was question Vincent about this when they were alone as to not cause and show any signs of disrespect.

Seeing this made King second think if Vincent even had the capability to accomplish the things that King had in mind for the commission.

The twin were watching China and sizing her up remembering that video she was the same female that they saw on video chat sucking King's dick.

They were floored by how handsome King was in person and knew that they would get their opportunity to double team him that was if Vincent allowed it.

China saw the twins sizing King up show she gave them direct eye contact that said back the fuck up and the twins did just as China's eye stare demanded.

King asked Vincent was it safe to talk amongst the people that were present in the room.

Vincent told him he was good but to hold his tongue until they were alone because everything wasn't for everybody.

They went outside to the back of the apartment building and sat on two white beach chairs that were set up already.

As soon as they were seated King asked Vincent why he was living in the projects if he had all the gang leg was not like the life style of the son of a drug Kingpin.

King laughed and joked the statement off even though he hated when people didn't give him credit for making his own living but that would change property soon.

King took the next two hours talking to his best friend from childhood about him taking back what his father created and wanting to implement the gang that he controlled to take control of the crews that were popping up in the cities that the commission worked in and were causing issues.

King explained that he had studied the green stone bullies and knew that they started in New York City but had chapters up and down the east coast.

King asked Vincent if he had contact with the leaders of the gang who were in prison in New York State and was told that he was in contact with them.

King then explained that the commission was willing to pay a monthly fee to the four horse men that controlled the gang as long as they were willing to give Vincent full control of the street line up worldwide.

Vincent saw the vision and what King was up to already and called the twins and told them to send encrypted email to the horse men because prison system allowed email contact now.

King asked Vincent if he had any other houses or location that he lived at and was the Lexus that he saw in the parking lot Vincent's only car.

Vincent explained that he loved the hood and didn't need much more then he already had.

King smiled and told Vincent that mindset will change real soon my friend.

He gave Vincent his hotel address and room number and told him to stop by later with the twins so they and China could hit the mull up while him and Vincent chopped it up more.

As he walked back through the apartment King ran into the twins in the kitchen before reaching the living room.

Tisha smiled and licked her lips at him while Tasha blew King a kiss as he walked by. When they were getting in the car China mumbled under her breathe to him that she sees she would have to kill one of those bitches before it was all over.

King told China to stay calm and if she thought that his mother Lisa or Nunu killed every woman that looked at his father?

Every woman that his father fucked behind their backs.

China stared king down and asked him if he thought the twins were sexy?

King answered truthfully yes but added that he wouldn't touch them unless she gave her blessings.

China just started at the limbo trucks navigation system and sucked her teeth loud enough so king could hear her.

King only response to China was that "your be okay ma"

When they got to the hotel room at the Sheraton Downtown charlotte North Carolina, King saw that China still had an attitude about the twins.

As he began taking off his clothes for a shower he asked China how long would she be in her feelings.

China was honest in her answer an explained that we weren't into sharing her man with anyone else. That wasn't what she was taught growing up.

King shook his head and headed to the bathroom to take a shower and get ready for his meeting with Vincent.

Nunu arrived in the city of Baltimore at 11:45am that morning.

She made arrangements to meet with Prestigue personally to speak with him knowing that he was going to be the most problematic member to deal with during the transition of power.

Nunu rented a Nissan Altima for the trip she wanted to look more like a business woman in an economy base car then a drug lord queen pen.

Prestigue told Nunu to come to him mini mansion that he had that sat in the out skirts of the city.

When Nunu pulled up to the gate she notices that the gate had Prestigue name in script going across it.

Before she could pull completely up to the intercom the gate opened up for her and gave her access to the property.

Nunu drove in and up to the house door and began exiting the car.

As she was getting out of the car Prestigue appeared at the front door wearing a Gucci bathrobe shilling and holding his arms open expecting a hug.

Nunu walked passed Prestigue and into the house and into the living room.

Seeing Prestigue and the fact that he thought that her appearance was some type of social trip raised Nunu 's sense and made her understand just how difficult their job would be as a woman.

Prestigue closed the door and followed her into the living room and asked if she wanted something to drink.

Nunu asked for a simple glass of water and club soda and explained that she didn't have much time so she wanted to get straight down to business.

As he walked towards his bar that was exactly what Prestigue had in mind.

He decided to use some of the GHB date drug that he had in Nunu 's water to have sex with her and weaponries their sex against her in her position the chairman or in her case chairwoman.

Prestigue returned with the water and then asked Nunu what he did to do to be graced with her presence directly.

Nunu held no punches as she sipped the water and explained that here was no secret that there seemed to be a major disconnect between King and himself.

She made it clear that this disconnect couldn't exist because of the fact that her and King both share the chairman seat at the commission.

Prestigue discuss this openly with Nunu explaining that he understood and respected both her and King's position, but in his mind he was just buying time for the GHB drug to kick in.

He knew that he didn't have much time before his baby mother and wife Monique came back from shopping.

She gave him some privacy knowing that Nunu was coming to meet with him directly. Ten minute later Nunu felt herself becoming drossier and unbalanced but figured it was from a lack of water so she began drinking more of the water to ensure that she was properly hydrated.

Fifteen minutes into their meeting Prestigue saw that Nunu was fully drugged and ready for him to take advantage of.

He didn't attempt to waste time carrying her to a bedroom Prestige laid Nunu down on the couch and began taking her clothes off of her right then and there.

When he got to her panties he slowly eased them off and then put them up to his nose and sniffed Nunu pussy into his nose and said to her that she smelled like strawberries exactly what he always thought she smelled like.

Nunu made a sudden movement and groaned to where Prestigue thought maybe she was coming out of the drug already.

So he hurried and jumped on top of her and took his penis out and began rubbing it and down against Nunu 's sweet pussy.

Once he saw that she was moist he slowly entered Nunu 's pussy and arched her back up with his fore arms as he pumped into her with everything that he had in his body.

Nunu moans while Prestigue trusted into her pussy. Prestigue spoke softly into her ear telling her how much and how long he waited for this moment.

Prestigue whispered her name and noticed that Nunu's eyes opened wide and stared into his own while he continue to rape her.

Sitting in her brand new 740 BMW Monique started into her phone at the home cameras watching her man having sex with Nunu.

He was in a zone and fucking her the same way that he fucked her and it was driving her crazy.

What she found strange was the fact that Nunu seemed to not be moving and not be into the sex capered at all.

These made Monique stop watching knowing that it was being recorded and go back to beginning when Nunu first arrived.

What she saw made her very upset.

She watched her man drug Nunu 's water and then wait patiently like a predator until the drug took effect.

She couldn't believe her eyes and then she switched back to the footage and finish watching Prestigue actions.

She from the camera point of view could see that Nunu eyes were open and staring directly into Prestigue's eyes. She knew her man and knew that his sex thirsty ass took this stare as lust but she could tell that as a woman Nunu may have been in compacted by the drug by she was aware of her body being violated.

Five minute later Monique called Prestigue phone and watched him jump up and answer her.

When he picked up she told him that she would be at home in five minutes and he explained that the meeting was going good and he would tell her all about it.

After hanging up Monique watched Prestige stop what he was doing and start putting Nunu 's clothes back on her body.

She was disgusted and knew that she would have a hard time holding this in without explaining to him that she secretly added cameras to the house because she didn't trust him.

Prestigue dressed Nunu and once she was completely dressed he broke a sent stick and waved in under her nose and made her wake up out of the drug that semi knocked her out.

He then gave her some more water that was free of the GHB drug and told her that she nodded off and must have been dehydrated.

Nunu sat and made sure that she was not emotional at all with the information that Prestigue just gave her.

He doesn't understand that she was drugged but felt every thrust that he sent into her body.

Nunu didn't want to give off the fact that she was going to kill Prestigue especially since she was currently in his city and unarmed.

All she could think about was her baby Issiah telling her and King Prestigue needed to be dealt with.

She didn't know what was on her mind coming to meet with Prestigue by herself.

Then she mentally shook the thought off seeing that she was becoming victim and blaming herself for him violating her.

Nunu had never been weak in her life and would make sure that a man would never take her as being weak ever again after what she would do to Prestigue if she made it back home alive.

Right on queue as she was getting tired of acting as if she didn't realize what happened Monique Prestigue baby mother walked in the door with their two kids in tow.

Monique saw Nunu face and knew as a woman that she had to be of assistance to her.

Prestigue was her man through thick and thin but she could not and would not support him in raping of another woman.

Monique walked right over to Nunu and gave her a big hug and asked her how she was doing and did she like being back in the states versus living in the Caribbean islands. She asked Nunu if she was okay and showed her the gun in her purse by opening her bag enough to display the gun.

Nunu shook her head no because she was confused on what Monique intentions were. Monique did say out loud while Prestigue was playing with his two kids well if yawl are done allow me to walk you to your car.

When they were out of the house Monique explained to Nunu as she was getting into her mental that she saw from secret cameras what took place and she knew that Nunu was aware also.

She then told Nunu that she offered her gun because she would never deny a woman revenge over her rapist but she would gone in a week so at least give her those seven days before she came back to kill him.

Nunu shook her head now aware of what had took place and that she was really raped. Nunu mouthed thank you to her and got inside of her car and drove towards the gates. Prestigue watched Monique and Nunu converse and couldn't shake the idea that their communications was off.

Moe never really spoke to Nunu before she left for the islands because she knew that he found her attractive and that Nunu would kill her.

His daughter started yielding which made him give her his attention and forget about what Nunu and Moe was doing outside. It really didn't matter because he had already gotten the pussy.

As he was busting China ass after getting out of the shower King heard his phone going off constantly and thought to himself that that couldn't have been a good thing.

He had only been in the United States for a few days and that don't have his number for it to be that active.

He jumped out of the pussy and saw that his mother Nunu had text him in code telling him to call her immediately.

He did so and she didn't pick up the phone so he tried again.

The only reason that she couldn't have been answering him was if she was on the plane heading back to the estate in Hilton Head.

He knew that she could handle herself so he didn't contemplate that she may have been in any form of danger.

Only if he really knew how wrong he was.

Later on that night Vincent and King closed on a deal after finding out that the four horsemen had given Vincent the green light to work under the commission for whatever it was that they needed.

This was important because only the four horsemen could give Vincent complete control cover the green stone bullies worldwide which they had done after receiving that encrypted message from the twins earlier that day.

The deal was very simple Vincent would travel to the cities where the commission had control over and force the competition to get down with purchasing their heroin from the members that ran those states or Vincent would use the green stones bullies to climate themes a threat and receive 10% of the commission profit coming out of those cities. Vincent was cool with the deal and plus he would do it for free it helped his childhood field stay alive in the field.

While Vincent and King meet in his hotel room King gave each of the women China and the twins ten grand a piece to go shopping and tear down the mall so that they could speak in privacy.

After the meeting was done Vincent told king that the twins wanted a three some with him and wouldn't take no for an answer.

King responded by telling Vincent to get the commission back in to control and the twins and Vincent himself could have the world.

Vincent said I will tell them and they will take you up on the deal I am telling you that now.

King laughed and told him that they would have to convince China on him.

He said nigga I wouldn't mind busting both of their asses right here tonight but business comes before pleasure.

O Vincent agreed and told King that he wanted let him down.

True Colours

Monique put her two children to bed and watched the footage of Prestigue rapping Nunu again and again and again.

She concentrated more on the look in Nunu eyes and knew that her kid's father was a dead man.

She was upset with herself for not seeing this before or being blind to the fact that the nigga she was in love with was a monster that took advantage of women.

She also knew that she had to leave Prestigue or die with him because the commission was coming back to kill him no doubt about it.

Monique wanted to make allies with Nunu and allow her to know that she didn't approve or support what she did.

She began to search through her emails for the invitation to bind's wedding that she received years ago.

Once she found it she downloaded the footage and sent a copy of it to the email with the subject title being for Nunu 's eyes only.

Monique then called her older sister Missy and told her to tell Mommy that she was coming home. Missy told her that she was on her way to her house to help her back.

Missy was Monique's older sister and though Prestigue spoiled neither Monique Missy nor her mother never like the way that he treated her.

Prestigue had no respect and had been caught messing with different women monthly since they knew each other and Monique never walked away.

So missy knew it had to be something that finally caused her to want to leave and she didn't want to waste time asking what it was over the phone.

Missy told her mother that she was going to get Monique and help her pack her shit because she was coming home.

Her mother Janice jumped up and told Missy that she was coming with her.

When they got to the house, Monique already had plenty of her belonging ready to be packed into the truck that her sister had.

She decided to not be a bitch and take everything but the shit that she really needed. When Janice saw the look on her daughter face she knew that something terrible had happened she opened her mouth to ask what was going on and before she concluded Monique told her it will have to wait until they got to the house.

Janice knew at that point it had to be serious.

The first thing that Missy asked was if she had all of her jewellery which Monique started at her and said bitch that was the first thing that I grabbed.

Janice asked where was Prestigue to which Moe answered she didn't know and really didn't care.

Janice followed her oldest daughter Missy in her own car so with three cars of room to play with they had no issue getting all of Monique's property into them.

Janice grandchildren was happy to see their grandmother but knew that something was afoot because they sat in the pack of their mother car quietly as the sisters and mother gathered Monique's belongings.

They were almost done packing when Monique's phone rung and she saw that it was Prestigue calling.

She hesitated from answering then thought that it would be better if she didn't avoid his calls yet.

When she picked up the phone Prestigue asked her what she was doing and Monique told him that she was taking the kids to the malls to pick up a few things.

He laughed at her and asked her why didn't she stay home and oust order on line like normal rich people did.

Monique laughed and held in her anger and responded telling him that she liked moving around so, she could keep an eye on him.

Prestigue said okay baby you win.

Well just tell my babies that I called and check up on them okay.

Aure will daddy Monquie said and hung up the phone cutting the conversation short. Missy and Janice watched the interaction between Prestigue and Monique and knew that if she had reached the point of no return with him that it had to be a serious story behind the reason why and had been more entertaining than the days of our live soap opera so Missy and her mother loved hearing when they went through as long as Moe wasn't physic today things seemed different. To different to take as a joke and that was why neither one of them played when she called and said she was coming home. Monique came from a family that had a lineage of wealth. They lived in Ellicott City which was minutes outside of the city of Baltimore in a house that was 5200 in square footage.

So there was no problem with her coming home and brining her kids with her.

Monique also had a master degree and business and find a job in her field would be no problem.

She knew that she had to get away from Prestigue at some point before he got her killed or locked up so there was no time to make that move like the present time. Monique told her mother to give her one minute because there was one more thing that she forgot.

She ran back inside of the house and upstairs to the bedroom and removed the picture of her and Prestigue off of the wall so that she could access the wall safe.

Once inside she cleared the safe of all of the money that was inside of it which was close to a million cash and took her twin local locks with her for safe keeping.

When she got back to the front her mother and sister was all ready to go so she hopped in her 740 BMW made sure that she had the title in the glove box and then waved them to follow her out.

Back home in the estate Nunu sat in the home office drinking patron straight no chaser. She had ignored the calls that she was getting back from King and figured that she would talk to him once he got home.

She didn't want to disturb the business that she to take care of because the outcome was crucial to the commission over all agenda.

All she could think about was the different ways that she could kill Prestigue.

She was stuck on whether she would allow his bitch Monique to live after the interaction between the two of them.

Though her head was banging Nunu still remained focus on her position as the boss. Nunu became suddenly aware that there was a second presence in the room with her and looked up to see her baby boy Issiah standing there looking at her in a daze.

Mommy what's bothering you I know that it's about business isn't? Nunu hesitated and thought about lying to him but she saw too much of monster in him whenever she looked into his eyes.

She took a deep breath and responded telling Issiah that he was right she would have to kill Prestigue.

Issiah cocked his head to the side and looked sideways at his mom before he responded.

He moved close as possible to her without even hearing him before noticed it and sat down and look at her and said when he looked into Prestigue's eye while was on the video chat I saw envy and hatred for you and my brother.

That is a very bad trait to have in business and that could only mean that person has foul intentions towards you and King.

I am not a baby mommy I understand more than you may relive it is as if i had been here before this life time.

Hearing him speak Nunu relived this. He acted so much like his father it was unbelievable.

Nunu just stared into her son's eyes wishing that his father was here with them to walk her through her next few moves.

As if hearing her prays Guess called in and when she answered asked her was everything alright?

Nunu asked Guess why was he asking her this, and he stopped and asked her was the room free for him to talk freely.

Nunu could only imagine what the issue was she closed her eyes and thought about Issiah being present for whatever it was Guess wanted to discuss with her.

She opened her eyes and told Issiah to close the door and Guess it was safe to talk around her son.

Guess asked her was she sure and Nunu snapped and told him to speak and stop questioing her fucking decisions.

At that point Guess began to explain that he still had access to the email that monster used when they invited everyone to Bingo's weeding right before he was murdered ten years ago.

Nunu shook her telling him that she understood and what did that mean.

Well Guess said the other day he received a message from Monique email with the subject title for Nunu eyes only.

If disregarding the topic he opened the email and saw footage that must have only been meant for her to see.

Nunu was lost and asked Guess to send adopt of the footage to a different email.

Issiah sat in his mother seat and pulled the footage up on the screen while minimizing the screen so that Guess was in the smaller box.

What Nunu watched was horrific and made her understand why Monique's relation was what they were on the day that she was at Prestigue's house.

Nunu and her baby boy watched as Prestigue drugged her water with some type of liquid and then waited for her to take the affect then raped her.

Surprise Issiah took the footage batter then her and guesses both to the point where he broke the ice and was to first to speak out of the two of them.

I guess i missed something else in his eyes when I watched the video of the meeting lust.

Issiah looked at the screen and maximized it to where Guess was looking at the desk of the table where he sat at and asked him if he had a problem with how the outcome of this situation would end?

Seeing that he was taking too long to response Nunu's ordered guess to answer her fucking son and to never be slow responding to monster's child whenever he asked a dams Prestigue and a would even assisting however can and that she saw fit.

Nunu ended the video conversation after hearing this from Guess. She looked through his phone searching for a contact number for Monique.

She took a few minutes tried three numbers before someone picked up and said that they were Monique.

Nunu asked her if she was the one that sent the footage that she had just watched and Monique explained the story from start to finish.

She explained that she always knew that Prestigue wasn't the faithful type and wasn't sure if he was bringing women to the house on the times when she wasn't there.

So for that matter she installed secret cameras that he had no knowledge on but didn't know that she would ever capture him committing a forcing rape.

Nunu nodded her and stated that was why you reacted the way that you did when you came in that day.

Monique explained that she had to get home before he did any more damage and when she offered Nunu her gun in was a sincere order.

Monique then went on to explain that she knew from that point on the Prestigue was a dead man walking so she had already moved out of the house with her kids back home to her mom's house.

Nunu responded by telling her that she would take Monique up on the sincere offer of killing Prestigue by having her help her line him up.

Monique wasted no time agreeing with her and telling her that she could reach her anytime at the same number before ending the call.

Issiah asked his mother if King knew about what had happened to her. When she answered that he didn't he ask when she planned to tell him?

Issiah then said maybe we shouldn't tell him at all.

Nunu said no he needs to know but I will wait to he is back home in his right mind set. I want his death to be something that everyone remembers mommy.

Nunu heard the voice of monster when Issiah made his last statement so she looked in his direction and at that point knew that her baby how would be the true leader of the organization moving forward.

Back in teens Guess was on the phone with Rah Rah explaining what had taken place between Nunu and Prestigue and informing him that for sure there would be some major moves coming down so to be prepared.

King and China was house shopping for Vincent. Before he allowed his best friend to enter the underworld and partner up with the commission he would make sure that he gift a taste of what the life was really like.

They had settled on as bedroom house that sat in a code sac develop in concord North Carolina.

China had also purchased Vincent a Bentley Suva be delivered to the house the same day.

She didn't add any special features to it like King told her to do she figured once Vincent got use to the life style he would add his own personal touch to his toys that he had.

King had given Vincent the address and asked him to meet him at that location in two hours.

They got to the location first and made sure that everything was as it was supposed to be.

His mother had wired the money to the home owner and made the transaction very simple by signing the deed and leaving the owners name blank.

A feature to which they paid 800,000 grand more than the asking price of the property. As King and China walked the property looking for places to add security features for Vincent China stopped King in the upstairs hall way and started kissing him passionately.

On that day she had on a Gucci skirt with Gucci's sneakers and a Gucci dad hat and shirt on.

As she was kissing King he began to unbutton his pants knowing that she was still upset over the twins wanting her man.

King took his right hand and grabbed China's throat as he press her back against the far wall and began lifting her skirt up to where it was over her waist line.

Seeing that she had no panties on made more horny then he already was.

China was a slim chocolate thing so King her leg up to where he was able to enter her from the front.

They were fucking for a few minutes until King repositioned himself and grabbed her second leg to where both her legs where in Kings arm and the only then that was holding her up was the wall behind her.

At that point King started to drill China like he had never fucked her before.

Knowing that the house was empty China didn't hold back the screams and moans from the pain and john that she felt from making lovelier down as hard as she could on each thrust that he entered her body.

There was nothing between her pussy and his dick and the gravity of her weight made her fall on his dick each time to the point where she thought that he was inside of her stomach.

It didn't take long before China was Cumming all down King's legs and her body was conversing as if she was in a medical seizure.

King came inside of her and then sat her down on the hall way floor and stood over her fixing his pants and shaking her head.

When China asked him why was he shaking his head King told her because the twins would never get the type of dick that she gets out of him ever.

They continued to look around the inside and outside of the house while China took notes in her iPhone on what upgrades should be made.

They also had 250, 000 in the combo truck that they planned them for a house warming gift for him to do as he saw fit.

King had also contacted Vincent moms Jennifer who was like an aunt to him and asked over to meet her at the house as well.

They heard a knock at the door and found Jennifer when peeking inside.

She saw King she ran to him and hugged him like a mother who didn't see her son after four years of college.

King introduced China to Jennifer and explained that this was her son house that he had governed him.

Jennifer said thank you maybe he Williston top you and get out of those damn projects he love so much.

She told King that Vincent had a nice stash of money put away but never to do anything on the side to make the money make more money while he did what it was he did.

King told his aunt to stop worrying because he was back and that Vincent would be okay now.

All Jennifer could say was that she hoped so.

Minutes later Vincent was pulling up to the house with the twins it tow.

He knocked on the door and walked in and saw his mommy and said okay Ma you got a new house huh.

King laughed at Vincent and told him no nigga you got are stand what was going on when they heard the tow truck backing into the drive way to drop off the Bentley truck. China then commented and said oh yeah and a new truck to bro.

The twins started China down until Tisha diverted her attention to King.

This time around china didn't get mad at all. She watched Tisha and then made sure Tisha saw her eyes looking at King's dick and then look back at Tisha and smiled. Tasha walked over to China and whispered in her ear I hope your pussy taste as good as king's dick taste.

That china loved the challenge and told her you will only find out when I say it is okay so keep wondering.

Now how do you all like you all new set up twin China said aloud for everyone to hear.

Tisha stared at her not liking anyone that challenged her and or her sister.

Vincent asked King what the hell did he need a new house for King took Vincent to the front of the house and began explaining that they were at Vincent was short changing himself and making himself to viable to the street.

When that happens you are too easy to kill and stop youth legacy.

Vincent took in the information and knew that King was right.

He trusted King with his life and explained that he just never had opportunity to change his situation.

King was monster's son and Vincent knew better than anyone else that king didn't live off of his father's name sake.

He may have received money from the life style that his feather lived but King made his own bones.

Vincent also knew that game that King was giving her was dead right.

King told him that he would inform horror how to best organize his troops but he would only do that with Vincent in private and allow Vincent to give the orders. Vincent agreed with that King then went in his limbo truck and gave Vincent a rat Gucci bag and told him that that was a house warming gift.

Vincent and King entered the house without Vincent looking inside of the bag.

When they got inside Vincent was smiling and telling his mother that King gave him a Gucci bag as a house warming gift and gave the bag to the twins.

His mother looked like she was confused as King Shrugged his shoulders and asked the twins to open the book bag up.

When they did everyone was in looking a bag full of money Vincent asked king how much was in there and king told him that for him to count and find out on his own.

China looked at her Rolex watch indicating to King that they were short on time and had to get ready to make moves.

Vincent told king to watch the news in charlotte tonight and they walked out of the door.

King said copy in the meantime nigga order some furniture so that you and those pretty ass bitches am not sleeping on the floor tonight.

The twins waved at China as they were pulling out of the drive way with smirks on their face.

As China drove in the direction of the highway home she spoke to King without taking her eyes off of the road.

Baby when I do give you the green light to fuck those twin bitches please do me a favor.

King looked rather and asked what favor you want when it comes to me fucking another bitch China?

I want you to fuck them in their asses until they beg you to stop I want you to really put that big fat dick on them.

They think that I am a joke so i will get to them through the nigga they lust you daddy. King just shook his head and stated whatever you say queen your wish is my command.

King called his mother's phone and Issiah answered and asked him how long it would be before he got back home.

King asked why and Issiah sat quiet and said that isn't a respond to the question that I asked big brother.

King laughed and told his brother they would be home pie ten that evening and hung up.

This little nigga is something else he said to no one in general.

At roughly 8:30 pm that evening an all-black Nissan Altima pulled up to the project on the south side of charlotte and opened fired on a group of out that had been sailing heroin and given off or cop from them.

When the new camera appeared the story were five dead a three wooded sadly.

Vincent sat and took the story and forwarded it to King with the smiley face emoji saying “let the games begin”.

Unlike most people Vincent was a hardcore gang banger that didn't believe in talking and reaching even ground. It was his way or the cemetery so before he attempted to talk to niggas he wanted to send a message that would be loud and clear.

This message was received clearly with five dead bodies by the hands of the stones. That same evening he text the head of the stone in Raleigh, Baltimore Jersey City, Pricey, Tennessee and Columbia South Carolina and told them to prepare a war report. This was code for get ready to kill at will. King told China that he thought that he detected a hint of worry in Issiah's voice when he just spoke to him and China told him everything was okay don't stress himself.

Rah Rah was sitting at the light when he noticed a red pickup truck pull up beside him. He put his hands clock 26 in case he needed to handle his business.

The driver and the passenger of the truck nodded in his direction and threw up the blood gang sign while screaming out its all over nigga you mob.

Rah Rah didn't know much about gang life but he knew enough to understand that mob stood for member of blood.

He shrugged the event off and went on about his business. Rah made it to his crib and asked his bitch to call her brother for him. When he was on the phone his main man told him I don't know what the fuck you got going on but half of the north side of Philly just got into a shootout with at least 30 people shot and those two crews that were giving us issues just hit me asking for the prices.

Rah Rah hung up and sat on his couch wondering what the fuck was happening.

He hit Guess phone to ask question and was told that the chairman was hard at work to get low for a few days until the next meeting. That same night close to 9:30 in Plainfield New Jersey, Max and Manman were inside of one of New Jersey most visited gambling house with Mannan being down close to a hundred grand in petty cash.

Everyone in the state knew who Max and Manman were so they were always allowed into any establishment with their guns.

The person playing house gave Max and Manman a nod telling them that the owner wanted to see them in his office.

The owner was an old timer by the name of hot rod and Max could not figure out why the fuck the owner needed to see them personal.

They never caused issue and never complained about the 10% cut whether they lose or won.

Manman passed the bank and told the nibba cutting house that this better be good.

When they got in the office Old man hot rod sat them down and locked his door with his two security guards guarding the door.

Max went to reach for his gun but Manman told him to relax he knew enough to know that Hot rod was not up to trying to do anything to either one of them.

Hot rod went into asking Manman if he remembers that back in the day he got caught up in Washington height copping work and had to do a bid in New York Preston system.

Manman explain that he recalled the incident a little what the hell they had to do with that and why did he stop him in the module of having the bank.

Old man Hot rod told him that he owed some one's blood niggas a favour for bolding him down in a few beefs that he had gotten into and that tonight was the night that he had to return the favour.

He hit the TV so that it was showing the inside of the gambling rooms in his spots.

In the room next to the one that they just left out of Manman saw the leader of the hit squad crew which was the crew that had been giving Manman's organization a lot of issue lately and stepping on a lot of the turf they controlled.

Manxman looked rack at Hot rod like what is this all about when he was told to watch and see.

Hot rod hit the red light in the room and his house man pulled out a mac 11 while two niggas came through the side door and started shooting the hit squad crew and there leader up.

Once they were done Hot rod told him that monster was a very good friend of his as well and King was like a son that he never had.

From this point on, I will act a point man for you with everyone in the state that wasn't buying from you.

They will all cop from you or die in the street sailing another niggas cope.

Like that they guard opened the room door and stepped aside informing Manman and Max that they were free to go.

They left the club instead of going back to the room that they had left from.

As soon as they were outside Manman called Guess to ask him why the deal was and was told the same thing that Rah Rah was told the chairman was heavy at work to get low until the next meeting was called.

War Report

As soon as they walked through the door of the estate at 10:30pm that night Nunu called King and China into her home office for an emergency meeting.

When they walked into the office Issiah was fully work reading an algebra math book sitting on his mother's chair behind them on the desk.

King looked at Nunu who said it's a long story that I will explain and day we have bigger issue right now.

King said okay what's up Issiah put the book down and press the play button on the remote and waited

China and King was confused at what they were Prestige's house and him having a robe on instead of curbs.

This made King very uncomfortable knowing the Prestige was his father's little man as a worker not a fucking boss.

Nunu told him to relax because it wasn't what it seemed.

King continued to watch until China asked Issiah to stop the video and rewind a little bit.

China cocked her head to the side and said that mother fucker is putting something in your drink.

Nunu nodded as if explaining to King that was what happened.

Minutes later they watched as Prestigue raped Nunu until his phone went off.

China wanted to stop looking and go straight to kill the nigga herself but Nunu told her to sit and watch it complete video.

When she looked at King his eyes was closed and he was shaking his head in a murderous rage she knew.

But she told him he will get his turn to do what he want please watch the video. Monique was seen entering the house and interacting with Nunu before addressing her man.

China asked Nunu why was she opening her purse and what was she saving to her. Nunu explained what Monique told her and that at that point in time she was offering her gun in the event that I wanted to kill Prestigue right then and there.

King turned and asked her why didn't her then?

Nunu explained that she was still coming down from the drug and was confused on why Monique was making such an offer instead of protecting her man. Nunu went on to explain that Monique had left the house and has agreed to assist in lining Prestigue up.

King barked at Nunu line him up. What the fuck are you talking about we don't need her help lining him up I will kill him and his entire crew with me and my bitch.

China stood by her man and agreed.

Nunu went to speak but was cut off NY the baby. Issiah stood and walked to the front of the room and started to talk before King told him it was passed his bed time.

Issiah sat and waited and continued I am the son of the same fucking man that made you.

The only difference between us is different mothers carried us for nine months.

Killing Prestigue isn't a problem at all, but it would be wish to make his death epic so that the head of the family doesn't continue to kill them and put them in danger. Nunu looked at Issiah with is eyes slanted in a devious fashion and said to no one in general that I swear that to are your father's son.

King picked up his phone and called Vincent when he picked up he told him to had fast on Baltimore that he wanted to handle some of the business personally.

Vincent didn't respond but just hung up.

Baltimore was a city that Vincent knew would not fall hard due to the black guerrilla family and how deep those were embedded in the city.

He decided that it would be better to try to speak to their leader then waste time and loose homes trying to initiate them in a single blow.

He told the twins who were in the shower playing with them enjoying their new home to reach out and set up a meeting ASAP when they got out of the bathroom.

The twins acknowledged Vincent knowing that it had to be important anytime that he wanted to call off work that the homes had to put in.

King sat emotionless in rage knowing that he should have killed Prestigue as soon as they landed back in the state.

He thought back to all the times that he overheard his father and great grandfather talking on satellite phone about dealing with Prestigue and knew that his father always felt that he would be a major issue sooner or later.

He saw now that the later was in their face.

Nunu didn't know what to say to Issiah or King.

She also saw a certain fire burning in the eyes of China that she had never seen before. She slouched down in the sofa in the home office and placed her hands to her face and began to cry.

She sobbed aloud that she should have never brought them back to the states.

China was the first to speak out of the four of them.

China called Nunu 's name by addressing her as boss and telling her to pick her head up and that she never due to one of them in the room dying.

You are a boss and there are things that bosses have to deal with good and bad.

Boss up and make decision like monster and Mr. Matthews would have done, Hearing these words coming from China struck Nunu to her core and she did exactly as she was told.

She wiped her tears and told King that he and she would personally deal with Prestigue and that they were heading for is more first thing in the am.

Isaiah stopped them before they were able to walk out of the room and said that he wanted to deal with Prestigue as well.

He told them that if they didn't stop treating him like the average eight year old that they would find out on his own term exactly what he was capable of.

King looked at Nunu and said you heard the young Don I still don't get it because when i was his age I and Vincent was playing football and basketball or call of duty on our consoles.

This little nigga is just different altogether.

China leads the way out of the office with king right behind her.

As they began to walk Nunu couldn't help but watch how deeply memorize King was at China's sexy walk.

She also notices that the young Gantries didn't have any panties on and remembered the days of when she herself would be around monster without any panties and knew exactly what King had in store for the night with his bitch.

Instead of heading right to bed Issiah decided to continue his daily video dairy and express what was going on in his life.

He didn't feel like hearing King and China play all night like he had been hearing since they had moved to the estate.

Even though his room was upstairs on the second floor if he was in the living room or in the kitchen he would hear China screaming King's name or she whip cream and other thing slaying around the kitchen and living that they were obviously using in the bedroom escapades.

Issiah loved China like an older sister so he didn't have much complain beside the fact that she sure was loud when she wanted to be for a quiet West Indian.

As soon as they were raisers bedroom China asked Alexis to put on some music by hood celebrity and began slow winding and twisting her hips to the tunes coming through the speaker.

King was paying China no attention as he looked in his phone checking from message from various niggas seeing how the streets may have been playing out.

China saw king was acting so nonchalant as if he didn't notice her so she took all of her clothes off and danced to the tunes to the point she was in her own zone.

China was dancing with her eyes closed until she felt King's presence on her back side. At first she thought that he still had his clothes on until she realized that what she was feeling was actually King's big dick on the crack of her ass.

China slowly began backing it up on King's dick knowing that he was getting harder and harder.

Since they had first fucked their relationship had taken off to new level using toys and experiencing different positions and other sexual things.

King took his time dancing and smacking China on her ass knowing that he was starting her up.

China was like no other bitch that he had fucked before.

Once she started up she would fuck for hours and he loved the way that she screamed his name whenever she was Cumming on his dick.

The only thing that he hadn't did with her and to her was get inside of that tight ass hole of hers which he was determine to do tonight.

As they danced in motion King saw that he had just a little prehuman the tip of his dick.

When he had China to the end of their California king size bed he bent her over and told her to tweak for daddy.

When China was tweaking King got on his knees and started eating China's pussy from the back and thudding her ass hole seeing that was throbbing from his work.

King saw that China was Cumming all over his face after while which he took some of the cum and moved to up to her ass hole.

China was completely unaware of her man's intention and since she had never experienced anal sex she didn't know how it even started or ended.

Well tonight China was going to find out what it felt like because King was on a fucking mission. King stood up and entered China while she was still working.

She paused for just a second until she had the full length of his dick inside of her hot wet pussy before she continued working on King's dick.

While he fucked China from the back he continued to stick his thumb further into and out of China's ass hole seeing that she was not stopping him at all.

King stood back further and began to long stroke China and enters her harder and harder.

China was in her own zone as always whenever she and King fucked and tonight was no different.

King pulled out this time and instead of going back into China's pussy he entered her ass but slowly as he and whispered over her shoulder to relax her ass hole muscles.

China reaction wasn't what king thought it would be. She had always defied him whenever they were having sex just for spite but tonight she was looking back staring into his eyes asking him was that what he really wanted to do to her.

King held on to her waist in case she attempted to run but instead China bite down into the pillow in front of her and threw her ass back harder each time onto King's big dick. This made king loose his mind and thrust harder trying to break China motion.

He saw that she was screaming louder and louder but the music boarded over her but she wasn't stopping at all.

Every time that he entered the ass hole she tightened her muscle around the head of his dick.

A few minutes of this back and forth and King was busting a nut inside of China's ass. When he was done he laid on the bed while Chine grabbed a wet wipe and cleaned his dick off before sucking it until it got hard again.

As she sucked his dick she asked him did he think that the twins ass would better than her.

Before he knew it China was riding him backwards starting the fun all over again from the top.

King work up to Nunu ranging on their door telling him that the jet was leaving in an hour meaning he had 30 minutes to get up and get ready.

He looked at his phone and saw text messages attached to news stories and some with video from the news in New Jersey, Philly and Columbia South Carolina of mass shooting.

He also read a text from Vincent telling him that they had new accounts in each one of the cities.

He looked to his right and saw China knock out with her leg on top of his so that once he moved she would know it and jump up to.

King got out of the bed and told China that she should sleep in while he and Nunu took off to B-more to handle that business.

China asked him what was there for her to do around the house.

King response was learn and practice being a mother because I am certain that nut I bust last night in that pussy was the one real talk.

Brotherhood was something that China never thought of in the past back.

She was more than certain that Mr. Matthews couldn't produce any kids.

King laughed at her as he was getting dress after a two minutes shower because he saw that she was really thinking about his last statement to her.

He asked her why she didn't been think of that all the fucking that they were doing lately.

China flicked her middle finger up at King and told him gown nigga leave me alone. When king was going out of the door China was laying back down to go back to bed. When he got to the car he saw that Issiah was not in school but in the back seat playing with a little 22 gun.

Ma you letting him play with pee shooters now.

Nunu told King to stop making fun of Issiah before he used his new toy on him.

That nigga am not going to kill nothing or let nothing die.

Nunu just stared at King Remembering when his father monster uses to run that same damn line.

As they were driving towards the gate the two dogs that they had chased the car were barking at Issiah.

Nunu commented that those dogs love them some Issiah I see. Every fucking move that you make they are on your body.

Like a boss is what Isaiah said back in response to what his mother was saying.

King hated dogs but understood the significant in their purpose.

As if he was reading his mind King heard Issiah tell Nunu to tell him to leave able and clam alone.

Nunu looked at King as if telling him I told you that this little nigga is special.

Within ten minutes they were in the private airport and boarding the G7 jet that was waiting for them with their personal pilot Nick.

When they got on the plane king took a clock 17 off of his hip and gave it to nick to take into the lock box in the cockpit.

Seeing this Issiah gave him his 22 while Nunu handed Nick a machine pistol.

They strapped in and were in the air in minutes.

Nunu picked up that satellite phone and dialled Monique's number.

Monique picked up and informed Nunu that she was in play and everything was in motion without any problem to report.

Nunu then gave King and Issiah the run down on what Monique had been telling her in the last two days.

Since leaving the house Monique showed Prestigue the video footage through text and explained that was the reason on why she had left with the kids.

They had been going back and forth with Prestigue ending the matter and explaining that he was cool with what she did and moved in his side bitch Juju.

Juju was an older bitch from Baltimore that was known to fuck with all of the getting money niggas that came through the city.

Prestigue just was trying to get Monique upset by allowing her to see that he moved another bitch into the mini mansion that she once live in.

Wwhat Prestigue didn't know was that Monique had already made a deal with the commission where her live would be spared along with the lives of her two kids and she would be given half of whatever Prestigue was worth at the table.

His new bitch Juju was friends with Eisha who was Rah Rah's bitch and Jessy who was Nut's bitch and they had already lined Juju knowing that she would have to die with Prestigue because of the fact that she was too embedded in thinking that she was his main situation.

King nodded and commented telling Nunu that he saw that she had been working behind the scene hard huh.

He then informed her that he planned to relocate to from chalet to B-more especially since he had been there before and announce Vincent as a member of the commission for the state of North Carolina and the city of charlotte.

Nunu nodded telling King that she agreed with the move and loved the fact that she would finally be able to get Jennifer into a better situation by way of Vincent.

Jennifer and Nunu were just as cool as Jennifer and Lisa were before Lisa was murdered.

They had spooked briefly since she was back in the states and Nunu told her that she would make time to come and sit down and visit once she got everything straighten away with the organization.

Nick informed them that they would be landing in 30 minutes as to inform them that it was okay to start making their arrangements and pick calls.

Pay back is the Mother Fucking Bitch

Vincnet sat on a video call with Gizmo who was the leader of the black guerrilla family for the Maryland state branch.

Vincent held no punches with Gizmo and explained that there was an east coast war going on and that the stones were behind the killing that he was sure that he was hearing of.

Gizmo laughed in Vincent face and told him that he knew that B-more would fall as easily as a lot of those other cities fell sourly was he putting on the table.

When Vincent was done talking to Gizmo he had the BGF willing to clean up the city for the commission and assisted in killing Prestigue once King and Nunu touched down. Gizmo was smarter than Vincent took him to be because he knew all niggas were suckers for bad bitches and he had two of them that killed at will for him on his back and call.

The twins took this time out seeing that Vincent was in a good mood to tell him instead of asking that once all of this killing was done that they had plans to jump chins and King.

Vincent laughed and said I'll set it up but be careful what yawl -two bitches ask for I am telling you that those two are monsters together.

As they plane descended to the private airport in DC out skirts King looked out the window and notice that there were more cars sitting back in the hanger then they should have been expecting.

He said something to Nick and told him to hold fast for a speedy take off in case shit isn't right.

Rah Rah and guess sat in a Rolls Royce truck and Manman and Max sat in a Jaguar cope.

Behind them were five red, black and green jeep wranglers with 20 nigga throughout the five cars that none of them new.

As the plane landing ARS touch the black top King's phone began ringing to which he answered and said I hope that is your work at this airport or Prestigue is on to us.

Vincent wasn't the voice on the other end of the phone.

Tisha said no daddy that is your assistance and more is yours now so you owe us that dick so make sure that clear everything with your bitch.

Then the phone line went dead.

Nunu stared at her son awaiting his order to see if there were going to be any issues here right now or they were flying back home.

She was ready to kill and back in her mood.

What she couldn't understand was what the fuck that was about because she was close to enough to have heard the entire deal.

Be easy tell Rah Rah they with us.

As they opened the plane door Gizmo and his crew pulled their truck Guess and Manman cars and gave them a gesture that informed them that they were all on the same team.

Max on the other hand never took his eyes off of Gizmo defending him as the leader and the first to go if shoots rung out.

When Issiah stepped off of the jet first Guess shook his head at just how much he resembled his father.

Damn they are fucking twins I swear he was heard saying under his breath.

Nunu and King followed each of them visibly showing that they had their hands on their guns and ready for whatever.

Gizmo jumped out of his truck and began approaching them just as Max stepped out and asked what's popping bro.

Again Gizmo explained verbally this time that Vincent sent them to ensure a job well done.

Only then did everyone fully understand that Baltimore had fallen without a shot being fired.

This was crucial because Maryland as a state was a middle land for the commission and its organization and businesses.

Everyone was prepared to send members of their individual crews to B-more to fight a battle with the understanding that everyone might not make it back alive.

So to gain the city of Baltimore without firing one shot was something that no one of predicted or thought was even possible.

The funny thing is not even Nunu and King thought that the proposal would work but Issiah was adamant that it would.

Issiah explained as my walked towards the Roll Royce truck that he spent the last seeing the video footage of what Prestigue did to Nunu studying the economics of the city of Baltimore.

He then did the math and knew that through Vincent they as an organization could afford to give more kicks back to the black guerrilla family then the amount of money that they guessed annually.

So it would be mathematically stupid for them to rather go to war then accept the deal. And like Issiah predicted Baltimore fell without any acts of violence well at least not yet.

Gizmo approached King and spoke directly to him but was stopped in mid-sentence when King told him that Nunu was the boss.

Gizmo stepped back and sized Nunu up as if she was a snack.

Today she had on a skin tight Dior cat suit with her hair pulled back in a ponytail and looked no older than 30 years of age.

Nunu told Gizmo it was okay to speak she was used to it. Gizmo explained that he had ten guy watching Prestigue min mansion and they were ready to move whenever he gave the call.

Nunu explained that they were there to kill Prestigue personally and that everyone else was just back up for this job.

Rah got out of the car and motioned that he would ride in the car with Gizmo to watch King told him it was cool he would ride with Gizmo and for Rah Rah to stay in the rolls.

Nunu took her phone out and read the text message that she was sent twenty minutes ago.

That particular morning Prestigue cleared a lot of his security detail because he made arrangements for Monique to come over while Juju was in Miami getting some more work done to her body.

Just like a fascist pig Prestigue wanted his cake and eat it to. Monique knew this and made arrangements for Nunu and King to storm the mansion while she was forcing him.

Nunu told Gizmo to tell his crew to secure the house and that they would be there in ten minutes.

And like that Prestigue life span was sure to end that morning.

While they were in the car Nunu looked at King and said I am telling you that want you to violate Monique when you get the opportunity.

I made arrangements for you and her to be in Jamaica at the same time two weekends from now.

I know that she would resist you because your father use to fuck her as well and you mirror him too much for her to turn that down.

At the mansion Prestigue had his baby moms bent of the stair case as they were half way up the stairs fucking her in her ass like a dog bitch that she was.

Prestigue couldn't understand why she was so upset about him fucking Nunu whether Nunu knew it or not when he knew that every time that she was on a vacation back in the days she was really with his boss monster giving her body up any position he wanted. As he was forcing her he had a hold of her jet black hair in the grips of his hand and was screaming at her.

Monique couldn't understand what Prestigue was saying but she knew that today would be the last day that the touched her ever.

Then it hit her loaf a ton of bucks the words that has coming out of his mouth. Prestigue was fucking her sand yielding why you are so fucking mad bitch when you were fucking monster.

She didn't know that he ever knew that she was one of monster's side bitches.

It all started to make since now why he had always went against monster so easily because new that he would get a pass due to monster fucking her.

Prestigue paused in the middle of a strove thinking that he heard a foreign sound in the rear of property but then shook it off knowing that black his main protector would allow harm to come his way.

He only had a guard on each side of the house with a total of four because he wanted some degree of privacy that morning.

It wasn't as if Prestigue at didn't care about hiding Monique's body because of his crew had seen her naked or compromised at one time or another over the decade or so that they were together.

Shit on one occasion Prestigue had even trained Monique on a drunk with his main security guard black. So he just decided to give everyone the day off and have some fun while Juju was away and if Monique wanted to come back then Juju could go back to the condo that he had for her or kick rocks.

He had kids with Monique and that trumped everything even though Juju pussy was ten times better than Monique's was.

Moe just had a tighter ass hole after all these years.

In the rear of the property one of the BGF niggas had just blown blacks head off and was sitting motionless because of the fact his body had fell up against the glass patio window door.

On the side of the house a female had snuck up on the second guard and knee capped him before putting two more shots in his head.

Jean WHB was blacks brother was being rough the front window pane as Prestigue fuck Monique.

His brother black had told him about the night that Prestigue and him trained Monique and since were on a Skelton crew that today would be his lucky day.

Only if Jean knew just how lucky he was today.

He thought that he heard a sound but when he looked back it was Monique looking in his face because Prestigue had her sitting on the stair case now sucking his dick after he was just finish fucking her in her ass.

Prestigue even looked back to make sure that he acknowledged Jean presence looking at him.

Prestigue was into her and different Chinese drugs and had taken a pill that he used whenever was out partying that enhanced his sex performance that morning.

Monique's body and ass hole was in pain but she had made a deal with Nunu and knew that she was a dead woman if she failed so it was her or him and that was a no brainer.

She wanted to move to the bedroom or at least the hallway so that Prestigue wouldn't have a view of the gate opening knowing that they had to be close from her sending her text.

Jean turns back around to check his surrounding and was hit with a bullet in the middle of his head.

The host was perfect timing because Monique was running up the stairs and Prestigue was chasing her telling her no to run now because they were just getting started.

The Rolls Royce was leading the back and had just pulled up to the gate when the last guard was shot and taken out.

Seven BGF members sat in the front of the house waving them through the gates as three were unseen put in the surrounding woods keeping guard for the rest of the people.

Nunu had the code to the gate thanks to Monique and them seven car convey entered the premises with ease.

They pulled all of the cars to the far side of the property knowing that Prestigue wouldn't have a view from his bedroom window in case he had luck running on his side today.

Again Nunu alone had the code to get into the front door and they all walked into the house.

Gizmo told his niggas to go and find the bitch ass and bring him down stairs.

Watching all of the BGF niggas run up the stairs looked like a section from the Scarface movie.

Nunu King and Issiah along with Gizmo walked to the living room and took a seat on the same sofa that Prestigue was seen raping her in the footage.

Monique was on the bed with her legs spreader bold eagle while Prestigue was super manning her pussy and choking her with both his hands.

Monique saw the niggas walking into the room before Prestigue was aware of what was going on and knew that it was finally over.

FATZ walked right up behind Prestigue and placed the blue steel of MBE 357 revolver to the back of his head.

By the movements that he saw Monique make Prestigue knew something terrible was wrong.

Prestigue felt cold metal on his head and knew it was all over.

Before he was able to turn around he felt the metal bust him in the back of his head ABD saw blood running down his face.

One of the niggas grabbed Monique and told her to walk don't the nuts while FATZ personally escorted Prestigue out of the room.

When they turned into the hall way Monique and Prestigue seen that the entire hall way was filled with SFGA members who all had their guns out and ready.

Prestigue was confused because though he may have had his little spats with the BGF niggas in the city there was no direct threat or major issues that would cause them to invade his mansion.

When they reached the bottom of the stairs and Prestigue saw Gizmo he asked what was going on.

Before Gizmo could answer Prestigue heard a familiar voice of King who told him to shut the fuck up and sit down bitch ass nigga.

Seeing the look in King's eyes Prestigue realized that he was in no position to deny King's order.

Nunu patted the sofa and told Prestigue to have a seat right here on their favorite couch. Prestigue's mouth dropped when he saw Nunu seating on the sofa.

Monique was in front of him and Nunu asked her to seat on the opposite side of her so Nunu was in the middle of Monique and Prestigue.

Monique was still in her birthday suit when Nunu turned to her and stuck her tongue in Monique's mouth and told her that King is going to love fucking the shit out of you. I have a little Jamaican trip planned for you all two weeks from now baby.

For now go put on some clothes and go home to your kids.

Monique got up with no shame and stared King in his face seeing how much he favoured the man that she loved his father.

She walked passed all of the men and up the stairs where she was escorted to her clothes and pack down stairs and out of the door.

As she walked out she told Nunu that she had already stopped the home cameras and told Gizmo where he could locate the hard drive and the rack up.

Monique blew Prestigue a kiss and walked out of the door to her 740 hemmer.

Issiah stood up and turned the TV on so the footage that was playing on the screen.

All of the age niggas along with Prestigue and the commission sat there and watched him drug and nib rape Nunu.

Gizmo looked at Nunu with a different level of respect to be the woman on tape and now in her boss mode about to kill Prestigue.

King stood up and asked Prestigue what he had to say for himself.

Nunu broke into the conversation and explained that she had always known that he was on her body but what niggas was raping bitches now-a-days.

Before Prestigue was able to open his mouth Nunu and King saw the blood coming out of his mouth before they heard the shots.

When they all grabbed for the gun Nunu realized that Issiah her baby had squeezed two shot from his 22 gun into the back of Prestigue head and was looking at them. All was doing too much talking he didn't give you that same respect lets go home now.

Without further due Issiah walked out of the house with Rah Rah following him to open the rear door to the rolls truck.

Guess laughed to King and Nunu and stated that he guess he found out who the real boss was today huh?

There and a half hour later there was pulling back into the gates of their estate and heading for the home office where a family meeting with their entire organization was starting in ten minutes.

As they walked through the door Nunu saw China watching TV which something that she never did eating ice cream and asked her was she okay.

China smiled and said you will find out in nine months just how okay I am Nunu.

The comment went over Nunu and King's head as they pushed to the home office. When they were seated the screen came on and there was a face missing and a new face added.

King wasted no time introducing Vincent who had the twins standing in the back of him one on each side and also explained to the commission that Vincent was responsible for the East Coast mass care that gain the commission sole control of the heroin distribution on the coast.

King then explained that for now on moving forward was moving to Baltimore as the heir to the city and would have Gizmo and his own organization of as muscle and Vincent was taking over dots position charlotte NC.

Everyone asked what happened to Prestigue and his organization to which King sat back and played the video footage of him raping Nunu.

When the tape was done King explained that what happened to him.

Issiah pushed up in the chair and made the next statement that floored everyone.

For the record moving forward King and myself will react as the chairman who would mostly be King because at my age school is still important.

Nunu is retiring early because she just became aware that in nine months she will be becoming a grandmother.

Then Issiah ended the meeting without further notice.

Nunu and King looked at the baby and asked him what the fuck was he talking about to which he answered that is a question that you two idiots should ask China not me and walked out of the office saying that he had homework to get done for school in the morning.

Coming Of Age

The family had five meeting amongst themselves in the next seven days that passed. Isaiah rose to the cream of the top using numbers to explain a lot of things to now his mother, brother and China.

These numbers wore mathematic probabilities on the success of every move at the family intended to make.

Issiah made his mother truly understand why retirement was best for her.

He broke the probability of her getting killed or going to prison by displaying the low rate of success for women drug lords throughout the American history of the underworld and judicial system.

He then made her understand that she could be more productive as a mother and grandmother then a boss of a criminal mythic.

The icing on the cake was the fact that China was pregnant with King's first child. Issiah made China understand that at the age of eighteen King was going to fuck plenty of bitches besides her in the life style that they lived.

So china had two options to leave him or accept it and fuck these bitches with him.

China started Issiah down when he made this statement to her but she knew that he was more than correct in his analysis.

Issiah was setting the commission up where only he and King would maintain that chairman seat this meant that King would rule because Issiah was still a minor and still in school.

The funny thing out of it all was that the three of them knew that the young in was right in every move that he suggested.

The week the Jamaica trip Nunu had a meeting with Guess where all of this was hatched out and everyone understood and agreed with the decision that she was making to retire.

Guess actually informed Nunu that he was relived because he had watched her grew up in this life and losing her to the game of the system would have killed him.

Guess understood that Nunu was a boss and knew that she would rise to the occasion and be a great boss.

But he also knew that the game couldn't be tamed and Nunu was a different beast and still lived in the times that monster ruled and the game was different now.

Monique and Nunu decided to spend a weekend with each other in DC a few days before she went on a mini vacation to Jamaica.

Nunu traveled commercial not to bring so much attention to her since she was retiring soon.

Everyone always thought that having access to a private jet was so cool without knowing the details and palms that had to be greased to ensure the safe coming and goings everywhere that you went.

Monique made arrangements for two suites at the hotel downtown DC and also acquired floor seat to the Washington Wizards game against the UTHA JAZZ.

Monique was living off of the money that she had taken out of the safe along with the 3.9 million dollars that she had saved over the years from being Prestigue's bottom bitch, sex slave and baby moms.

Monique had to pick Nunu up from BWI airport and was just pulling up to delta's gate when Nunu was texting her asking her why bitches.

Nunu looked up and saw the 740 BMW and jumped in the passenger seat after thronging her bags in the back.

She was trying to get used to being a regular bitch but that didn't mean that she still wouldn't buy out the mail whenever she wanted.

Nunu hated traveling with luggage and always travelled light and purchased on the go that was never going to change.

Monique gave Nunu a giant size hug she really appreciated her because she knew that it was her decision that lead to her to being killed.

The first thing Nunu asked her was did she get the package that was sent to her. Monique looked at her lost as to what she may have been talking about and told her no. Nunu told Monique to check her account right now.

Monique logged into her online banking account and saw that deposits for five million dollars had been made in the last few minutes. Nunu explained that we strong bitches must stick together and smiled at her and gave her another tongue kiss.

This was the second time in a 30 day period Nunu stuck her toing in Monique's mouth and Moe told her to watch it now.

Monique as shocked. She knew Nunu would take care of her especially after everything that took place.

What she didn't was that it would come with a five million dollar price tag.

Monique told Nunu if she knew that the dirty mother fucker was worth so much she would have been feed him to the wolfs.

Nunu said in response to Monique that timing is everything girl it played out that way for a reason.

They spent the rest of the day shopping at Tyson's corner and town send mall.

As they were in their way back to the hotel to check in Monique received retail telling her that there may be issues with the seats she got for the game that night.

When she mentioned this to Nunu, Nunu told her girl up grade up to the soy box please thank you.

Monique did as Nunu asked of her and then they checked into their suites.

As soon as Nunu got into her room she called Jermaine who was business lawyer that she had met since being back in the states and had been dealing with at least for now through the phone.

Jermaine was from Virginal beach and came from a family of drug dealers so they at least had some common ground.

He asked her how was her flight she explained that it wasn't private if that is who you were talking about.

He knew of her history in the street put also that she had grown up and was attempting to turn over a new leaf.

Nunu then told him that she had a surprise for him but that he would have to wait a few more days maybe just one or two more.

Jermaine said I am just happy to have you in my life so I am willing to wait for whatever when it comes to you.

Nunu informed Jermaine that she needed to jump in the shower and get ready for her event but that she would call him before going to bed whenever that may be.

Jermaine hung up and allowed his woman to handle her business.

Nunu was so shy in explaining to her son's that she had met someone especially a man that wasn't accustomed to the life style that they lived.

But she knew out of respect if anything else that she would have to spill the beans sooner or later.

Nunu understood to the code of conduct which was they no commission man could withhold information about the women in their life and no commission women could withhold information on the men in their life's regardless of the amount.

That is why Nunu wasn't surprised when other found out about Monique and monster because Lisa and Nunu knew from the start to the finish which was his day that he died. What a lot of commission knew such as Guess and Rah was that monster may be the father of Monique's oldest daughter that was 15 years old today.

Nunu was planning on bringing this up to Monique tonight while they were enjoying their little girl's night out.

Nunu jumped in the hot shower and took her time washing her body.

The more time that she spent in the water the hornier she became.

The last man to touch her willingly was the bar tender at the resort back in Bahamas and after that she couldn't remember the last time she had opening had a sex life.

While the water splashed on her breast Nunu thought back to when she felt Prestigue inside of her walls pumping inside of her.

She was getting wet and wet at the thought of a man having the heart to try her in the manner that he did.

The shower head in the suite that she was in came with a detachable shower head to which Nunu took off and now had in her hand.

She placed the head upside up and allowed the hot water to gush into her open worm trying in turn herself off.

What this did was make her Horner then she was beforehand.

Nunu then faced the wall in the shower took the shower head and made it rain on her pussy until she was naming and Cumming down her leg thinking about riding Jermaine dick in the next few days.

What no one knew other than herself was that she was planning to pop up at Jermaine's house before going home and allowing him to fuck her to bed and then fuck her some more.

Before she broke any news to anyone Nunu had to make sure that the dick was worth it in the long run. That was women code.

Monique met Nunu in the garage and they headed to stadium to their sky box in the garden.

Out of all the years that she had been with Prestigue Monique had never been to a game in the sky box like this.

After parking and heading into the stadium Nunu asked Monique didn't it feel good to be able to move around without a bunch of men playing body guard all fucking night, Monique told Nunu girl only if you really knew that half.

Without Nunu asking anymore Monique went on to explain the treatment that she received from Prestigue around the house.

How he would fuck her in the presence of security and don't care and how he had even shared her with the main guard black that was killed in the back of the house that day. Nunu knew that Prestigue wasn't shit but this was a little too much.

Nunu herself came from the slums so she could have only imagined what type of shit Monique went through with a nigga like Prestigue.

When they finally got to the sky box they found that they also had and a bar tender with an inside bar in the joint.

This type of luxury was not new to Nunu but Monique sure appreciated it.

The game started off good but it was easy to see that UTHA JAZZ had way more talent than the wizards could handle.

Seeing the boring part of the game so far Nunu took the time to bring up a few things that he wanted to address Monique about.

Monique I am going to be straight with you.

You are aware of mines and Lisa atom monster when he was here because you were fucking him also.

Monique acknowledged Nunu but in a subtle fashion because of the fact she didn't think people knew that she and monster had any relations at all.

Okay so my issue or better yet my problem is this I know that you loved monster just as much as myself and Lisa did.

Monique shook her head in agreeance with Nunu.

Well right now his son King is in love and having a baby with china.

Nunu explained who China was and how they met.

The problem was being born and raised in the Bahamas China was not prepared to walk the shoes of the main bitch of a drug card and could only become a liability at some point and time.

Monique stopped Nunu in mid-sentence and called the bartender over for more drinks because she knew that whatever it was she wanted to be drunk before she heard the rest.

Second later Monique down the shot of heresy and told the bartender to please bring a few more and just charged the card with the tab.

Nunu laughed at her knowing exactly what Monique was feeling.

So Nunu continued as Monique downed her four shot of liquid. So what I expect from you for allowing mou to stay alive against the wished of everyone else at the commission is for you to become King's main bitch with the acceptance of China.

Monique looked at Nunu like she had two heads. Nunu saw this and kept on.

Eel all know that your oldest may be monster's child i am willing to allow you to keep that secret with this as a favour in return.

Monique finally found her talk box when it came to her baby girl.

How the fuck can I fuck King if I was fucking his father Nunu.

To which Nunu responded easily the same way that you continued to fuck Prestigue after knowing he was a rapist and before you say that you did it for me.

Let's be for real as if he wouldn't have gotten some pussy from you one way or another.

Monique smirked at the comment knowing that Nunu was 100% correct in that matter. Nunu then said beside I saw the way that yawl looked at each other the other day. Monique knew that the look she gave King was not unnoticed by someone at least.

Monique asked Nunu was she finished.

Nunu said yes what you have to say for yourself.

Look I would fuck King brains up and down and around but how the hell will i be able to get around this China bitch especially if she is having his baby what would that do for me if I end up pregnant by King?

That is easily taken care of China will have to accept King as he is just as Lisa and I accepted monster as he was.

Every time that he blew your sack out him left we home as mothers and wives so you shouldn't have a problem living the same.

Monique knew that China was correct and that she didn't have much too loose in the matter.

She also knew that if she didn't agreed one terms that she was probably a dead bitch anyway.

Monique wasn't about to allow good pussy to go to was in a casket when it could be avoided in the long run.

So what do you have in mind Monique asked Nunu and Nunu responded by saying I thought that you would never get there bitch.

So you and King will be in Jamaica in the same hotel next week courtesy of momma Nunu and yawl suite will be on the same floor.

From that point on am I am more than certain that the natural chantry will do all the rest of the work. Monique busted out laughing seeing that Nunu been had this entire order planned out and admitted that she agreed it will work because she knew if King was monster son that he wouldn't allow Monique to pass him by.

Okay Monique said I get the Jamaica trip what about China?

When you come back you will be moving into the estate that we have in the South and I am sure that China will greet you with open arms.

That was sort for China had no choice in the matter.

Monique had been around the commission long enough to understand that part.

What she couldn't get and understand was why Nunu wanted that so bad for King.

To answer you quest Moe. I know what a real boss needs on his arm and China isn't it, at least not right now.

You the game and King will listen to you speak and so please don't bust your head thinking anymore pass that girl.

For the rest of the night both Nunu and Monique let loose got drunk and talked shit to every man that they saw.

It felt good to be a boss bitch and not worry about a nigga regardless of what.

Ninth Ending

That night when Nunu and Monique attended the game in D.C., Nunu when back to her hotel room and called her man Jermaine being drunk she gave him a little strip tease before sending him off the bed .

Nunu then ran across the hall to Monique's suite and woke her up.

Monique answered the door asking if everything was okay with her.

Nunu told her to shut up and get dress.

As Monique followed Nunu 's order Nunu went on rambling in a fashion that Monique never saw her in. Nunu explained that she had a nigga in Virginal beach and she wanted to Monique to take her to see him before she went back home.

Monique looked at her crazy.

Nunu told her look bitch we family now and I got to see what the dick is even hitting for before I break the news to the family.

Monique decided to do as she was asked by Nunu to do.

While riding in the elevator that night Monique asked Nunu if she really believed that King didn't know yet.

Nunu explained that she was sure that she had covered her tracks well enough to the point where no one knew anything as of yet.

All that Monique said to this was that then you don't really know monster's children. Nunu asked what did she meant by that.

Monique asked her to please keep the next conversation between them and them only. Nunu thought about this agreeing knowing what Monique was asking of her must have been watched to something serious.

Monique went on to explain that her oldest child was monster child and Prestigue knew that and that was why he always defied monster on even the simplest task.

This was the same reason why monster never killed Prestigue and always cleaned up his dirty work.

Mr Matthews knew this also and always advised monster on to deal with Prestigue.

This was also Prestigue's excuse on why he treated me so. Monique then explained that her child always seemed to know what she was up to even when she hides it from her.

For example Adrian knew that they would never see Prestigue again and said this to her just the other day.

Ache also had always commented over the years "mommy is Prestigue real my daddy".

Monique explained that she never told anyone this other than her mother not even her sister but could never figure how Adrian always knew these type of things without being told.

So I say this that you got to be wrong if you think that both of monster's kids don't know about this secret dick that you got.

Nunu corrected her saying it wasn't a secret dick because she didn't ride it yet but damn sure would tonight.

Monique went quite and drove while Nunu went thrown her text message between her and Jermaine in search of the address to his condo that he had once sent to her when he thought that they would hook up one day.

Once she located the address she inputted the information into the navigation system and saw that they had a mother two hours before reaching his place.

Monique looked at Nunu never seeing this side of her and asked her to see a picture of this man that she was head over heels for.

Nunu looked at her and said bitch the last time I was head over heels for a man you took him you sure the same shit won't happen again.

Monique laughed and told her the only man was looking for was King by her own orders so she had no reason to be concerned.

Nunu showed Monique picture of Jermaine and Monique was surprised at what she saw. The man resembled monster so much that they could have passed for two.

The one difference was that Jermaine had to be close to fifth teen years younger than monster who knew them both would be able to tell the differences in.

Nunu looked at Monique and waited for her to speak.

When Monique saw Nunu staring at her she asked her what was she looking at.

Nunu stated well bitch tell me what you think?

Monique said you want to hear the truth?

Nunu said no lie to me of course I want the truth.

Well he looks like monster's twin.

Nunu said thank you because that is why I crossed him only a man that looks like William can get this pussy wet and acting like Jermaine got me acting god knows.

Two hours later Monique turned into a community in vegan beach and the gate opened up on its own.

Nunu looked a little nervous but she was up for the task.

Monique stopped at a building two addresses down from the address in her navigation and looked at Nunu and asked her if she wanted her to wait for her.

Nunu opened her Balenciaga bag and displayed a 40 clock to Monique and told her to go home and get ready for her pussy date in Jamaican what King was working with one night when she watched him fuck China and trust me Prestigue had nothing on my baby.

Monique stared at Nunu like she was crazy and told her that she had 357 automatic in her waist and lifted her shirt and said dust it two bad bitches lacking at the game.

Nunu was certain that Monique had some type of weapon on her meeting her but she didn't think that the broad could handle the pound that she had on her waist.

Nunu let Monique know that she was impressed but had a dick to go up to the door.

She looked back and told Monique to ship all the clothes that they brought to the estate. When Monique went to ask her for the address she heard her phone register a message from Nunu and saw that she text her address.

Monique waited a few minutes to make sure that Nunu didn't come running out of the building and need of help and then she headed for the highway back to Maryland. Inside the building the door man gave Nunu no issues access in the elevators.

Nunu walked with a strut that would make any man afraid to ask her anything other than saying good morning and good night.

Nunu took the elevator to the top floor and when she got off she saw that there were only two apartments Jermaine lived in the pent house which was another plus for him. Poor Nunu then listened to the door that she knew was his apartment to see if she heard any foreign sounds when she didn't hear anything she looked at her Rolex watch and realized that it was 4:15 am so she take her phone out of her bag and called Jermaine to see if he would pick up at this hour.

After two rings Jermaine picked up leaving Nunu without the capability to hear if he was home alone.

Jermaine asked her what was wrong and Nunu answered nothing baby what are you doing.

Jermaine laughed and asked her if she knew what time it was.

Nunu explained that she was only calling to see if he had gotten the gift that she had delivered to his apartment.

Jermaine jumped up and said no but wait let me check the front and see he left it in the hallway.

While Nunu heard Jermaine walking towards the door he also asked what was it that she brought and sent to him.

Second later Jermaine opened his apartment door and found Nunu standing there with a trench coat slightly opened with no clothes on under net it.

Before she could walk into the apartment Jermaine pulled Nunu inside and closed the door and threw her up against the back of the apartment door.

Nunu hadn't been touch in so long by a man that she really wanted to be touched by that she didn't know what to do.

That wasn't a problem because Jermaine was doing all of the right things at the moment.

Nunu felt the Burberry trench coat falling from her shoulders before she felt Jermaine's hot tongue in her pussy.

With her back against the door and her body arched in the air Nunu's sex organ was protruding outwards which was better for him.

The next thing that she knew Jermaine was walking in the direction of the balcony.

So just a moment she thought that she needed her gun that was in her bag but all of those thoughts vanished when Jermaine bent her over the balcony and entered her from behind.

Nunu thought herself that what she felt entering her body could not have possibly had been Jermaine's dick but when she looked over her shoulder all she saw was Jermaine's chest and arms grabbing her waist as he stroked and fucked her pussy.

With every thrust Nunu thought that she would pass out. She had never fucked a dick as big and long as Jermaine's seem to be.

After twenty minutes of this position and handling the dick Nunu let it all out.

She came twice and then began screaming as loud as she could on every thrust and stroke that Jermaine gave her.

Jermaine was more than aware of his dick size and what he did to women when they were fucking.

She usually warned them to take it easy on them but in the case he wanted to damage Nunu.

For the last few months she had teased him and talked dirty to him and tell him that he wasn't ready for this pussy all the while knowing he was going to fuck the shit out of when he got chance to.

Jermaine paused and gave Nunu the opportunity to breathe for a second.

He then moved her to the couch and laid her on her back and opened her legs as far they could possibly go.

Jermaine entered Nunu took her legs and placed them over his shoulder.

Nunu meanwhile was going in and out of consciousness and thought to her that this niggas was killing with his dick literally.

At that point Nunu realized that she may have asked for more than she could handle but loved every forcing minute of this pain that she was receiving.

She was unaware of how long and how many different positions they fuck in.

The next morning when she awoke Jermaine was gone off to work and told her he would call her during his lunch break via text message.

In any other case Nunu would have cursed the nigga out but she was relieved that Jermaine wasn't in the house looking for a morning fuck, cause then she would have been in deep trouble.

Nunu felt that she needs to use the bathroom but was too weak to even move.

Ten minutes later she must gather the strength to get up and find her way to the bathroom.

Like a woman before using the bathroom Nunu investigated the bathroom for signs of another woman presence.

After being satisfied that Jermaine at least didn't have a woman staying with him she sat on the toilet to piss.

She thought to herself that the nigga probably ran bitches away with the big ass dick of his.

After she was finish pissing like always she looked in the toilet before flushing it.

Nunu stared at the toilet bowl dumb founded because she saw blood in the water with her piss.

She took a piece of tissue and wiped herself and saw that she was bleeding in her pussy.

She shook her head and smiled at herself not believing that she was standing in the bathroom like she was have little ass looking at her pussy bleeding from swex.

Nunu flushed the toilet and walked back to the living room.

She felt worry in her legs and knew that he pussy was so sore that every time that she pursed her legs against each other she felt pain.

She thought about the night and reached the conclusion that at least it was good pain after all of the bad pain that she had felt in her life.

Looking at her phone she saw two messages from Monique asking her was she okay and tons of miss calls from China and King.

She called King back first and he picked up on first ring and asked if everything was okay with her.

Once he was certain that she was good he hung up and told her that was all that he and China wanted to know because they hadn't heard from her?

Nunu mentioned the safe word in their conversation and that was how King knew that she was safe and in good care.

She explained that she was heading home and would be there today.

Nunu took an Uber from Jermaine's house to the airport and called Monique to gossip about her night.

It had been years since Nunu could just pen a normal woman and damn did she miss it.

Monique sat quite and then told Nunu that she needed to tell the family about Jermaine. Nunu was not used to another woman telling her what was right for her and her family so she cut the conversation short and text Issiah and told her that she would be home soon.

We'll be waiting on you with the smiley face emoji was the response that Issiah sent to her.

On her flight home Nunu decided that she was going to call an emergency meeting and break the news to everyone in the house about Jermaine's existence.

She closed her eyes for what she thought was just a few minutes and awoke to the plane descending the airport near her town.

She left her Nissan maximum in the car lot so she didn't need a ride home.

As she walked through the airport she felt guilty like she did wrong.

She also thought in her head that everyone she passed was looking at her knowing that she was holding a secret.

One thing for sure she knew that she was returning home with a different walk and that would have to be explained.

That was regardless of who she was within the family.

When Nunu walked through the door to the estate she was greeted and hugged by everyone even the Chief's.

Nothing seemed out of place and King gave her a kiss telling her happy that she was back home.

Nunu went to her bedroom to take a nice hot shower before calling for a meeting.

She did tell China to make sure that everyone was present in the next hour or so.

She found it strange that her baby Issiah wasn't in the house.

China watched Nunu as she walked through the house and towards her bedroom. She couldn't figure out her but there was something that she couldn't quite put her hands on.

China shared it off and told king who was in the home office speaking with a lawyer that Nunu wanted to call a meeting in an hour.

China had never seen this man before but was introduced to him by Issiah and king as the commission's new business attorney who will be handling all of their investment accounts.

Nunu took her time taking a shower think back on the good time that she had with Jermaine the night before.

She was nervous knowing that she had to break the news to the family but she also knew that she didn't have a choice in that matter, rules where rules and many have died because they failed to follow those rules.

One for certain was she felt being great able to to move around as a regular woman in the society.

When she got out of the shower she slowly dried herself off with a JLO beach towel. Her Virginia was so sore that she could only pat the area dry.

She threw on some white spandex pants and a tank top T-shirt and went down stairs into the living room to fix herself a drink before heading to the home office.

Nunu stopped in her tracks because she saw an unfamiliar car parked in the circular drive way that didn't belong to King or China or herself.

China walked by and told her that there was the new attorney's rental he flew in to speak business with the boys.

Nunu caught her offering China a drink but then remembered that she was currently carry chills inside of her.

She rubbed China's stomach and told her that there were a few things that she wanted to talk with her about personally after the meeting try to sale me bitch.

Nunu laughed and said I don't want none girl trust me.

China took a long shot and responded back saying "shit I could tell"

Nunu got as close as she could to China and asked her tell what.

China said you got some dick and by the looks of it was more then you could take. Shut up girl and let's walk to the office we got things to handle that is more important than my sex life.

They walked towards the office Nunu sipping her drink. Before she entered the office she thought that she heard the voice of someone that she then thought it was just her mind plain tricks on her.

When she opened the home office door Nunu dropped her drink and almost fainted when she saw Jermaine sitting across the table from Isaiah and King discussing business.

China asked her what was wrong and if she was Okay and helped Nunu to the office sofa.

Nunu straighten her face and looked up and told everyone that this was why she was calling and the apologize and meant no disrespect keeping a secret.

King, Issiah and Jermaine all broke out laughing so hard that Nunu began to get angry seeing that the joke were on her.

What the fuck is going on her, I want answers now she said back in her boss mode.

Issiah was the first to break the ice.

Mommy do you really think that no of us knew about Jermaine.

Every one of us phone is monitored by me and the security firm that I started with Joey one off the contractors that worked on the estate

So me and King and Joey been knew about the so called secret relationship with Jermaine.

In fact that was what started the process of vetting him which led to the family hiring him as the new business from a family similar to ours and understand the detail and privacy that comes with the life style and that is exactly what the doctor called for.

So great catch mommy.

At that point Jermaine walked over to his woman and kissed her so passionately that Nunu thought that she was in a dream.

Issiah said this is disgusting please go to stairs or go get a damn room we have business going on here thank you.

As they were going upstairs to the bedroom King told now that she had to break the news by the time he got back to work from Jamaica and that she didn't have to worry about China, because he already made her understand that she would have to pair up with Monique and that Monique would be moving in with them soon.

Nunu looked like she was lost.

All king said was like father like son.

PROLOUGE

Fifteenth years ago Jermaine was at a family reunion and met a man that he was told was his Grand Father.

The man was talking to another man by the name of Williams Roebeck that he was told was his older brother on his father side of the family.

Mr Mathews kissed Jermaine and told him that he would go far in life as long as he kept his head down and worked hard.

Jermaine told his grandfather that he wanted to be a lawyer.

Mr Mathews told him that he would become whatever he would because he would make sure of it.

Throughout the years after that family reunion all of Jermaine brother and cousin always made sure that they kept him away from the street and out of their business that they had going in the streets.

His mother always seemed to have the money to live in the best locations and send him to the school of his choice without having the job that matched the income.

About a year ago his nephew King reached out to him and told him that they would be moving back to the states soon.

King explained that his grandfather who was King's great grandfather had a job for him.

When Jermaine asked what the job was, Mr. Matthews took the phone and explained what the job was.

Jermaine was to watch over Nunu when she came back to the United States and he was to be the sole attorney that dealt with the financial affairs of the commission.

Jermaine asked him was Nunu off limits and Mr. Matthews told him he was to be her man, her lover, and her lawyer.

So Jermaine vested the resort in Bahamas one month later and made sure that he met Nunu as a customer and stayed in contact with her ever since.

He wondered if she ever found out who he was would that affect their relationship.

Only Time Would Tell!
