

Marshall Inu is more than a meme coin; it is an entire movement capable of shaking Mount Olympus at its core. And our Marshall Army is the vibrant community driving the heart of it!

The Marshall community was forged in the fires of the crypto market, imbued with the spirit to fight on and overcome all challenges in order to succeed. This overwhelming energy is poured into our global marketing efforts as every single hour; tireless Marshalls are spreading the word of Marshall Inu on Twitter, Instagram, TikTok, Telegram channels, and Stocktwits, bringing Marshall Inu to their favorite fighters, influencers, and celebrities attention!

The Marshall Inu community is the best community marketing force in the crypto space.

In terms of organic social engagement, Marshall Inu competes with industry leaders who have many times the market cap of MRI. This is a remarkable trend and testament to our Marshall Army. With such strong support consistently, even in challenging market conditions, it's only a matter of time before the market cap of MRI will reflect the true intrinsic value of our community, as we walk the road to billions* as one.

Marshalls understand that they are involved in a movement of extremely high potential, not just any crypto project. As a movement, Marshall Inu's success depends on its social appeal and spread, which is exactly why the Marshall Inu community and team works as hard as they can every single day. With time, Marshalls will RISE, and become one of the most successful crypto projects in history.

For several months, Marshall Inu has been the center of attention in the cryptocurrency space as the project that is making a real difference in the Mixed Martial Arts world. Our meme-token project was created on the foundation that the fighting community deserves more recognition, and we want to support them in exchange for all that they do for us. Over the course of our project, we have made tremendous progress across multiple different platforms. We have achieved many significant accomplishments during this period. Some of these include:

Donations & Partnerships

We have donated over 5 million dollars (USD) to over 500 MMA athletes/organizations around the world, many athletes who have become brand ambassadors for Marshall Inu including Kamaru Usman, Ian Heinisch, Kevin Holland, Brendan Allen, David Leduc, Mark Striegl and many others. In addition, we have partnered with several established fight promotions and have done entire takeovers where we were able to successfully contribute bonuses to their fighters.

These fight promotions include LFA, Cage Warriors, Ultimate Battlegrounds and several others. We have provided additional "Marshall of the Night" bonuses to fighters that have been voted for by the community as having the best performance of the fight night. Furthermore, we were successfully able to donate to fighter-based charities such as Bryce Mitchell's children's foundation. We were also able to sponsor entire gyms internationally in countries like Brazil to allow locals to train there and pursue their dream without worrying about expenses.

In terms of crypto partnerships, Marshall Inu has been successful in working with strong and credible groups to form mutually beneficial relationships. One of our biggest crypto partnerships is with Exponential Capital ($EXPO) — they have been yield farming our treasury at a significant return rate which has increased our funds and allows us to further realize our mission of supporting the fighters.

In addition, we have also partnered with Cryptocart.cc, which allows $MRI holders to exchange their tokens for gift cards thereby making $MRI a spendable, multi-use token. Another partnership we have is with Mysticbets.io, an online crypto-based sports betting site in which users can gamble their $MRI. These partnerships are geared towards furthering the utility of the coin and to help ensure the longevity of the project.

Social Advancement

Marshall Inu has made a splash across the different social media platforms garnering over 25,000 twitter followers and over 10,000 Instagram followers. We have promoted our projects and accomplishments via billboards across the world in major cities such as Las Vegas, New York and Sydney.

MRI NFT Sneak Peek

All NFT profit will be funneled back into the project via buybacks and adding to liquidity to ensure stability and increased growth for the project. Furthermore, we will be implementing a P2E game that will feature our collection to allow our holders the further opportunity to reap rewards and benefit from the project.

We have also been officially registered as an official Liability Limited Company, which will open the doors to many potential opportunities including deeper partnerships with fight promotions, the establishment of our own fight promotion, getting our token listed on T1 centralized exchanges and much, much more. Through this vehicle we will work to make Marshall Inu the one-stop destination for anything MMA-related including our own MMA news publishing division, sportsbook, gambling outlet and much more.

Discord will be open to public very soon and here will be specific discussion threads and voice channels that will regularly feature MMA fighters and personalities so that the community can directly ask their questions and interact with them. There will be several events that we will host on our discord server including fighter companionship events and fighter meetups.

Over the coming months we aim to donate over Ten million dollars (USD) to over 1,000 MMA athletes. We will surpass 25,000 unique token holders, pass 100,000 followers on Twitter and Instagram and continue to grow our YouTube channel to be a genre leader. MRI was conceived and born into some of the toughest market conditions in recent years and we are here to stay!
